U.S. Pilots Press War On Hanoi In Unrelenting Fury

Could Create Climate For More Troops

Westmoreland's Pending Report Seen LBJ's Bid For New Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland's pending report to Congress appears a Johnson administration bid for wider support as the air war against North Vietnam escalates.

But it also could help create a climate for commitment of more U.S. troops in South Vietnam if President Johnson should decide such a course is necessary.

Pentagon sources said Westmoreland's speech Friday will be in the nature of a military progress report, summing up where the anti-Communist effort stands today compared to two years ago when the United States began to bring its military weight to bear.

The appearance by the U.S. commander in Vietnam comes against a background of apparent hardening of the Johnson administration's attitude on the military side of the war.

Such a hardening showed itself after North Vietnamese rejection of President Johnson's latest bid for reciprocal moves that could lead to peace talks with North Vietnam.

The air war against North Vietnam has escalated markedly in the past weeks, with more and more previously immune targets approved by Johnson for U.S. bombing.

In recent weeks the North Vietnamese army has become more aggressive in the area of the buffer zone separating North Vietnam from South Vietnam.

Westmoreland has shifted two Army brigades from other operations to support U.S. Marines in the northernmost sector of South Vietnam. Before long, this Army task force is expected to grow to full division size.

This development has sparked speculation that present Vietnam troop build-up objectives may be revised upward.

There are reports Westmoreland may urge commitment of at least one more division and possibly two. Counting support elements, this could mean 30,000 to 60,000 more men, including additional air support.

For many months, Westmoreland's staff officers in Saigon have spoken in terms of needing another 100,000 men.

Sources said Westmoreland may indicate to Congress there are additional operations he could conduct if given more troops.

But these sources said the U.S. commander probably will avoid any direct statement to the House and Senate on his requirements for additional troops beyond the 470,000 now due in the war area by the end of this year.

Current U.S. military strength in Vietnam totals about 439,000.

Westmoreland's report is expected to make the point that the war will not be over soon, regardless of any further reinforcements he may get.

Associates said they look for him to stress — as he did before The Associated Press annual meeting Monday — that the Communist enemy has been badly bloodied, but has shown no signs of quitting.

New Debate Flares Over War In Viet

Westmoreland's Forthcoming Talk Touches Off Spark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has erupted into bitter, renewed debate of the Vietnam war with Gen. William C. Westmoreland's forthcoming address to Congress providing the spark.

Senate critics of U.S. policy charged Tuesday that Westmoreland, American military commander in Vietnam, was being used as a propaganda tool by the Johnson administration. Backers of administration policy said the debate itself feeds North Vietnamese hopes for final victory.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, disputed in an interview today contentions that President Johnson is using Westmoreland's current visit home to silence dissent to war policies.

Russell said Westmoreland, scheduled to address a joint meeting of Congress and to brief governors at the White House Friday, is giving a "well-reasoned assessment" of the war situation.

Westmoreland told the annual meeting of The Associated Press in New York Monday that he sees no end to the war except by exerting maximum military pressure to grind the enemy down. He said U.S. fighting men are "dismayed" by "unpatriotic acts" of dissent at home that give the Communists hope they can win politically what they can't by force.

"You can't please some people," Russell said. "If the President brings the general home to report on the war, that's propaganda in their minds."

Spurns Joint Move Bid

Soviet Rejects U.S. Request On American POWs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has turned down a U.S. request for a joint move to try to improve the lot of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

The rebuff from Moscow this week is interpreted in the State Department as fresh evidence of a toughening line on the part of the Soviet government in support of North Vietnam.

This marks a sharp swing away from the Soviet position in February when Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London, played an important role in seeking to get peace talks started.

The peace mission failed and apparently the Soviets found the failure and their part in it embarassing because of their rivalry with Communist China in opposing the United States and supporting Communist forces in Vietnam.

Several days ago, U.S. officials said today, the United States asked the Soviet government to use its good offices with the North Vietnamese government to bring about a change in the condition of the POWs — captured American airmen — held by North Vietnam.

The Soviet reply, officials said, boiled down to saying North Vietnam is a sovereign country and the United States should take up its problem with Hanoi directly. The United States does not recognize or have direct relations with Hanoi, but officials said it already had addressed a new appeal to North Vietnam through the International Committee of the Red Cross.

The State Department's figures through April 18 show 128 American airmen confirmed as prisoners in North Vietnam, 52 suspected, and 203 missing — a total of 383.

Thai-Based Planes Hit Power Site

Span Carrying Only Railroad Line To Red China Bombed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force pilots pressed their war against the Hanoi area with unrelenting fury today, bombing a key railway and highway bridge across the Red River four miles from the center of the North Vietnamese capital.

The steel and concrete bridge carries the only rail line between Red China and the North Vietnamese capital, the U.S. Command said.

U.S. spokesmen were unable to give an immediate assessment of damage to the bridge. They said it was a steel and concrete structure with five spans, 738 feet long and 20 feet wide, and with the center span is movable to allow passage of ships.

Other Air Force raiders from Thailand made the second attack in two days on an electrical transformer site seven miles north of Hanoi.

It was the third consecutive day of American raids on prime targets in North Vietnam's Hanoi-Haiphong heartland.

Pilots returning from the raids reported heavy opposition from antiaircraft fire, surface-to-air missiles and MIG jets. The American spokesman made no report of any planes downed, but a dispatch from Hanoi to Tass, the Soviet news agency, said a missile brought down one plane near Hanoi in flames and that Radio Haiphong reported four American planes and a helicopter were shot down there.

There was no immediate American announcement of any raids today in the Haiphong area, however.

The U.S. Command did announce the loss of two more American planes over North Vietnam Tuesday, raising the number admitted lost Monday and Tuesday to six during the strikes on MIG airfields and key targets around Hanoi and Haiphong. U.S. spokesmen said 516 American planes now have been lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

In the ground war, U.S. Marines battled strong enemy forces in the rugged mountains below the demilitarized zone Tuesday and reported 14 Marines killed and 38 wounded in three engagements.

The ground action in northernmost Quang Tri Province began Tuesday morning when a small convoy of U.S. Marine engineers was ambushed in a mountain pass. The enemy force, of unknown size, opened up with small arms, automatic weapons and mortars, killing five Marines and wounding 22.

Pilot In Heroic Effort

Flaming Crash Kills 15 Of 16

NANTUCKET, Mass., (AP) — A U.S. Air Force plane loaded with sophisticated radar gear crashed into the Atlantic Ocean like "a ball of fire" Tuesday night. There was only one known survivor among the 16-member crew.

The pilot, Col. James P. Lyle, 47, was credited with ditching the four-engined Superconstellation in a heroic effort to avoid the sleepy island village of Nantucket.

Lyle, who has 47 combat missions on his record, was one of 12 crewmen missing. Two bodies were recovered.

Rescued from the water was Lt. Joseph L. H. Guenet, 29, Montreal, Que., the navigator. He was listed in fair condition.

"I am convinced that he—Lyle—was fighting desperately to get it to the water and avoid this summer colony," said Albert L. Manning, one of three experienced private pilots who agreed that a last-minute maneuver kept the craft from striking the island.

The plane left Otis Air Force Base at Falmouth on Cape Cod at 6:30 p. m. and crashed in flames 10 minutes later 11½ miles south of Nantucket, an island just off the coast of Massachusetts.

The piston-powered craft was one of several the Air Force uses as "pickets," flying race track patterns in 12-hour shifts over an area extending over the Atlantic from the Canadian border to Charleston, S.C.

An eight-man investigating board headed by Col. Albert Evans, commander of the 21st Air Division, McGuire AFB, N.J., was appointed to probe the crash, third of such a craft within the past two years.

Skies were clear and visibility almost unlimited this morning as search boats, planes and helicopters swarmed over the area.

Area Trucker Loses Life In Pennsylvania

A Columbiana area man was killed Tuesday night when his truck struck a bridge abutment and plunged down an embankment on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The victim was Joseph Dennis Mong, 49, of Columbiana R.D. 2.

He was dead on arrival at North Hills Passavant Hospital in Butler.

The crash occurred three miles west of the Butler Valley interchange.

Mr. Mong was born July 20, 1917, in Tulsa, Okla. He was a driver for the Youngstown Cartage Co. and belonged to Teamsters Local 377 of Youngstown.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lela Mong, at home; four sons, James H. Mong of Columbiana, Joseph D. Mong Jr., Kenneth Dale Mong and Samuel Arthur Mong, all at home; two daughters, Linda Carol Mong and Brenda Lee Mong, also at home, four sisters and four brothers.

In Hotbed Of Controversy

Random Auto Inspection Bill Introduced In Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Republican state senator has tossed a random auto inspection bill into the hotbed of controversy on highway safety in the Ohio General Assembly.

Sen. Ralph S. Regula R-29 Stark introduced the measure Tuesday.

His bill was among three introduced in the Senate. Four were offered in the lower chamber, including one that would outlaw sale of so-called "loss leader" items in dairy and other retail stores. A similar bill was defeated two years ago after arguments that major chain stores sold milk below cost to bring in customers who otherwise might buy from independent retailers.

Regula's bill would call for a system of random auto inspections advocated by the Highway Safety Department and the Ohio Highway Patrol. They oppose compulsory periodic inspections which are included in the embattled omnibus highway safety measure pending in the House.

The freshman senator said his measures would authorize officers to stop vehicles for inspection without noting visible defects as required under present law.

"At least so far as I can tell, they now have no such authority," Regula said.

Under the bill, motorists caught violating existing laws against unsafe vehicle operation could be fined $50 for a first offense and $10 to $100 for a second offense within a year.

Regula said his proposal probably would require a series of inspection stations at strategic spots to provide facilities needed for checking certain mechanical equipment.

"But I am sure this would cost a lot less than annual inspections. It also would make the driver responsible for his car all the time instead of just getting out from under the gun once a year," the senator said.

The omnibus highway safety measure, introduced in the House several weeks ago, has undergone the stormiest hearings of the session with most of the dispute centered around a system of inspection.

Bringing pressure to bear has been a provision of the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1966 which requires inspection programs by the end of this year under threat of losing federal highway funds. The act has not been fully implemented and at this point no one seems to know whether such inspections must be periodic or whether a system of random checks would meet its requirements.

Ohio Senate Will Act On Pollution Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State representatives approved 94-2 Tuesday afternoon and sent to the Senate a proposed Ohio-West Virginia air pollution control pact.

Already adopted by West Virginia, the pact would establish cooperative means for action against steel mills, power plants and other air pollutors in one state which cause damage in the other across the Ohio River, subject to final approval by Congress.

LBJ, Bonn Leader Agree On Key Talks

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Johnson said today he and West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger agreed they would have "constant, complete and full consultations" before either of their governments takes decisions on matters of interest to both countries.

The President spoke to newsmen after his second meeting with the West German chancellor since his arrival Sunday for the funeral of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Johnson said he and Kiesinger had taken "no hard and fast decisions" but he hoped there would be more to announce after the chancellor visits the United States "at an early date."

The two men spent more than two hours together at Kiesinger's residence. The President said they discussed:

1. The projected treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons;
2. Trade and monetary problems;
3. Troop deployment;
4. The security of the two nations;
5. The prosperity of their peoples.

After the discussions with Kiesinger, Johnson took off by plane for Washington accompanied by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson met with Swedish Prime Minister Tage Erlander, presumably to discuss Britain's plans to apply for Common Market membership. Both Britain and Sweden are members of the rival European Free Trade Association.

John C. Lobb Named Head Of Crucible

Crucible Steel Co. announced today the election of John C. Lobb as president and chief executive officer, succeeding Joel H. Hunter, who became chairman of the board.

Lobb, 52, was formerly executive vice president of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. in charge of their technical - industrial products group.

Hunter, 61, has been president of Crucible since 1954, and chief executive officer since 1956.

The office of chairman was previously vacant.

Lobb was also elected to the Crucible Board replacing F. J. Daniels, who resigned because of the pressure of other business.

Under Hunter's leadership company sales and earnings have increased steadily. Informed sources indicated that he had desired to lighten his burdens for some time. As a first step, Walter E. Gregg, 52, with long experience in specialty steels and titanium and various posts with Crucible was elected executive vice president last January with responsibility for production and sales as well as directly supporting activities.

"The challenges and opportunities now available to Crucible call for a high order of leadership with great demands upon the top people's mental and physical energies. John Lobb and Walter Gregg, with their complementary experience and abilities, are fully equal to the task," Hunter said.

The steel and concrete bridge carries the only rail line between Red China and the North Vietnamese capital, the U.S. Command said.

U.S. spokesmen were unable to give an immediate assessment of damage to the bridge. They said it was a steel and concrete structure with five spans, 738 feet long and 20 feet wide, and with the center span is movable to allow passage of ships.

Other Air Force raiders from Thailand made the second attack in two days on an electrical transformer site seven miles north of Hanoi.

It was the third consecutive day of American raids on prime targets in North Vietnam's Hanoi-Haiphong heartland.

Pilots returning from the raids reported heavy opposition from antiaircraft fire, surface-to-air missiles and MIG jets. The American spokesman made no report of any planes downed, but a dispatch from Hanoi to Tass, the Soviet news agency, said a missile brought down one plane near Hanoi in flames and that Radio Haiphong reported four American planes and a helicopter were shot down there.

There was no immediate American announcement of any raids today in the Haiphong area, however.

The U.S. Command did announce the loss of two more American planes over North Vietnam Tuesday, raising the number admitted lost Monday and Tuesday to six during the strikes on MIG airfields and key targets around Hanoi and Haiphong. U.S. spokesmen said 516 American planes now have been lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

In the ground war, U.S. Marines battled strong enemy forces in the rugged mountains below the demilitarized zone Tuesday and reported 14 Marines killed and 38 wounded in three engagements.

The ground action in northernmost Quang Tri Province began Tuesday morning when a small convoy of U.S. Marine engineers was ambushed in a mountain pass. The enemy force, of unknown size, opened up with small arms, automatic weapons and mortars, killing five Marines and wounding 22.

Most of the city's public school teachers stayed away from classes. Eight schools were affected.

Association President Allen Martin, calling the move a "professional study day," said the teachers would weigh the problems arising from their relations with the board.

Vision Screening Set Saturday At Midland School

Mrs. Vincent Monaco, fine arts chairman of the Midland Junior Woman's Club, announced today that her committee will hold a free pre - school vision screening for children between the ages of 3 and 6 at the 7th St. School Saturday from 10 a. m. until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Monaco said the project is being carried out with the cooperation of the Beaver County Branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind in Beaver Falls for the purpose of discovering possible instances of amblyopia, a defect commonly known as the lazy eye, which has caused thousands of children to lose the sight of one eye.

This pre - school vision screening is approved by the Department of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Department of Public Health and the Pennsylvania Academy of Ophthalmology. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Monaco.

Trustee Resigns Post In Madison

Isaac Jones of Route 267, Madison Township trustee for 12 years, Tuesday night submitted a letter of resignation to the trustees, citing health reasons.

Jones earlier this month attended his first meeting for a number of weeks, having been hospitalized.

Residents of the township seeking appointment to the unexpired term may file a letter with Clerk Regis Scharf of Box 58, West Point, by May 2.

Trustees heard complaints of trucks speeding in the Suburban Heights and Y. & O. Rd. areas and received requests for repairs on Dunn Rd. and opening of the north end of Wells Hollow Rd.

A representative of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. discussed calcium chloride for roads.

Petitions are being circulated to request the trustees to restore police constable service for the township. In a split vote, the trustees earlier voted to discontinue the constables because of lack of funds and failure of voters to approve a police levy last year.

It used the followng statement: "With sincere regret, the Board of Directors has decided to discontinue the concerts for the time being. We have very conscientiously tried to bring to East Liverpool outstanding artists from the world of music during the past 10 years.

"The programs have included such artists as Jan Peerce, Rise Stevens, Jerome Hines, Ferrante and Tiecher, Jean Madiera, Stecker and Horowitz, Ruth Slenczynski and the Pittsburgh Symphonetta, along with a ballet and opera quartets.

"Due to the poor response to the last membership drive and the poor attendance at the concerts, we have voted to discontinue the concerts."

Girl To Face Grand Jury In Murder Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A juvenile court judge looked at Mary Crane, 15, and said:

"Mary, it is my sad duty to bind you over to the grand jury. I hope someone will be able to provide the help you need, because it is not available in this court."

The girl is charged with first-degree murder. The slaying involved $2.

Juvenile court officials said they believed she is the youngest girl ever to be bound over to an Ohio grand jury for murder. The maximum penalty is death in the electric chair.

The teen-ager is charged with the fatal shooting last December of Paul Williams at his east side home when he refused to give up $2 he allegedly had taken from her girl friend.

Norman S. Minor, the girl's lawyer, lashed the state for "it's short-sighted stupidity when dealing with children."

"If this child is convicted, society will be condemning her to a life of damnation because she will be sent to Marysville, a penal center created for the hardened adult criminal, not a child," Minor said.

"Juvenile treatment centers will be closed to her because the law does not allow common pleas judges to commit offenders to such places," he added. "The court has no other choice (the state) has stripped its laws of all morality."

When he bound the girl over, Judge John J. Toner said his "hands are tied."

Expanded Court Makes Sense

The suggestion advanced by Delmar T. O'Hara, Wellsville city solicitor, that the jurisdiction of the East Liverpool Municipal Court be extended makes a lot of sense and merits speedy and favorable consideration.

This is not only The Review's opinion, but the opinion of the majority of those directly connected with the judicial processes involved.

Under the proposal, cases which originate within Wellsville, St. Clair and Yellow Creek townships would be tried in the expanded Municipal Court here. At present, such cases fall within the jurisdiction of the mayor's court at Wellsville and widely-scattered county courts.

It is somewhat ridiculous that — under the present plan — people from Wellsville and Yellow Creek Township must go to Lisbon for petty cases and people in the Glenmoor - Calcutta area must go to East Palestine, when they're all part of greater East Liverpool.

The present system is far too time - consuming and an inconvenience in general for far too many people. Mr. O'Hara's suggestion would remedy the matter.

A new name would be in order for the Municipal Court — "Southern Columbiana County Municipal Court" or some similar designation.

And since the Municipal Court originally was established under state law, it would require an act of the Ohio General Assembly to enlarge its jurisdiction.

There's no reason why this could not be forthcoming through the efforts of Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and Sen. John Longsworth of Salem.

A case must be made, however, to demonstrate clearly that the action is a logical one and the desire of the people vitally concerned.

The Columbiana County Bar Association, area civic groups, other organizations and individual citizens could get the ball rolling by joining forces and endorsing the change and expressing their feelings to our representatives at Columbus.

The Review strongly urges speedy action in this direction. The advantages under an expanded court of record far outweigh whatever disadvantages might be raised by possible opponents.

Wellsville Levy Deserves A 'Yes'

Continued curtailment or the restoration of highly important extra - curricular phases of the city's school program.

That's the decision which Wellsville voters must make when they determine the fate of a 5-mill school levy at Tuesday's primary election.

School finances are not a problem peculiar to the Wellsville system. They have plagued many districts in the area—including East Liverpool—and many other districts throughout the nation.

Some communities have accepted the challenge and shouldered the added burden, with the best possible education for their young people the motivating force.

The cutbacks already in effect at Wellsville were not instituted to serve as a bludgeon on behalf of a favorable vote for the school levy. Rather, they were made after considerable soul-searching on the part of Supt. Lowell Myers and members of the Board of Education.

With the fight to retain competent personnel and to attract new teachers becoming ever more demanding and with sanctions threatened against the school system by the Ohio Education Association, those responsible for the school operation felt there was but one logical choice—curtailment to assure the best possible teaching staff under the circumstances.

Wellsville residents can do themselves proud if they, too, rise to the challenge Tuesday as have some other farsighted communities.

The Review urges overwhelming approval of the 5-mill school levy. The schools, the community as a whole and, most important, the children will be the winners if such approval is forthcoming.

Ringing Endorsement Of U.S.

Scriptwriters from the CIA and the U.S. State Department would have difficulty dreaming up a more dramatic endorsement of the American Way than the defection of Svetlana Stalin to the United States.

The stranger-than-fiction truth of the incident with her simple statement that she came to America "to seek the self-expression that has been denied me for so long in Russia" has tremendous impact.

Her acknowledgement "I found it was impossible to exist without God in one's heart" coupled with her free choice of America with its obvious faults, may cause some Americans to take a new look at their country and themselves.

Cynics will view the whole affair as a gimmick to promote an autobiography by Miss Stalin that will be published in the United States; an opportunity to pick up some capitalistic dollars.

We do not buy this theory. We feel our country has enough to offer that it would be more appealing than the Soviet Union any day of the week.

Moreover, we have a sneaking suspicion a good many other Russian citizens would leave their country for America if avenues were open to them; and they did not have to fear reprisals for relatives left behind.

It is hoped her firm commitment to her beliefs will be an inspiration to oppressed peoples everywhere—including those who are oppressed by their self-imposed limitations.

Regardless of motives, she made good sense when she said for her there are no longer capitalists or Communists—only people, the same everywhere in their hopes and ideals.

The Music Stops

Because of poor attendance and poor response to the last membership drive, directors of the Tri - State Civic Music Association have found it necessary to discontinue the annual concerts.

We join in the "sincere regret" they expressed in announcing the action.

Civic Music ,provided enjoyable entertainment and gave residents of East Liverpool and the area an opportunity to be in the audience as some of the world's outstanding artists displayed their talents.

Civic Music is a cultural phase of community life which will be missed. To those who worked long and hard over the years to keep the program going, another "thank you."

Let's hope ways and means are found in the not too distant future to resume the concerts.

A Freedom Worth Fighting For

One can have only the greatest respect and admiration for Pfc. Thomas E. Hays.

In case you failed to read Tuesday's front-page story in The Review, Pvt. Hays is the 19-year-old Highlandtown Marine heading for duty in Vietnam who aimed "both barrels" at those who have been protesting American involvement in the Asian conflict.

These were among his words: ". . .I enlisted because I wanted to go to Vietnam. I'm scared to die but if I do I will be dying for a good cause. . .

"My father fought for freedom. Now I am fighting for the same freedom, but for the people of South Vietnam. What makes the freedom any different then our own? If we don't stop communism now, we will be fighting on our own shores in a few years . . ."

Freedom is in good hands so long as those of the courage and caliber of Pfc. Thomas Hays are on its side.

I am unclear about the other two things you can do with 3-in-1 oil, but the three-way division fascinates me.

Human minds are divisible three ways, too. There are minds that comprehend, minds that can be made to comprehend and minds that cannot comprehend. We have a surplus of non-comprehenders.

There are wealthy people, people in moderate circumstances and people who have nothing—the kind Jesus taught us would be with us always.

There are three points of view: The reactionary point of view that wants to turn everything backward, the moderate point of view that wants to save what is good and get rid of the rest, and the radical point of view that wants to turn everything ahead willy-nilly.

There are fat people, thin people and people who are just about right. The last are trying to get thinner or fatter, as the case may be, fatties wish they were thinsies and thinsies wish they were fatties etc. No one is satisfied.

Times are booming, recessing, or bumping along in between. If they're booming, spoilsports want to induce a boom. When times are so-so, everybody sits around and waits for something to go wrong. It always does.

In the arts there is the same three-way division. What the artist does is very good, very bad, or workmanlike. Unfortunately the very-good rating is not bestowed until the artist is very old, or very dead. Someone else always reaps the profit from the very good.

The human voice is very high, very low, or middle range.

The human eye is farsighted, nearsighted, or "I wear glasses only when I drive or do needlepoint."

Food is cold, hot, or lukewarm. Water likewise.

Objects are large, small, or middle-sized.

The female sex is blonde, brunette, or red-headed. There used to be brownettes, but all brownettes now are either blonde, brunette, or red-headed like everybody else.

Edibles are sweet, sour, or sweet-sour.

Objects are tall, short, or medium.

Beefsteak is rare, overcooked or medium overcooked.

Lights are bright, dim or just right.

Sand and gravel come in three grades—coarse, fine and medium.

The animals entered the ark two by two, but they left in threes.

Come to think of it, 3-in-1 oil was the start of something big.

If I could only think what two other things are you can do with 3-in-1 Oil, besides oiling squeaky door hinges.

Hoffa's Plans For Freedom

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — If Jimmy Hoffa ever changes the pen for a quill, he might dub his requiem for a labor leader "Once Upon a Mattress." He is skilled now at making bedding. After a few days in the shoe section of Lewisburg's penitentiary, he was shifted to softer goods.

Victor Riesel

But he whistles while he works. He's a model prisoner. He's doing his push-ups and holding up far better than his former Teamsters national vice-president and prison parnter, Anthony Tough (Tony) Provenzano, who is desperately ill after surgery and down to 114 pounds. "Pro" went in for extortion, though at the time he was the world's biggest paid labor official (about $140,000 annually).

Hoffa is buoyed because he's convinced he'll go free on or about May 8 — when he appears in the Chattanooga federal court on an evidentiary hearing for a new trial.

HOFFA, it is reported, expects the government to confess.

There are 57 pages of affidavits before Judge Frank Wilson's court contending that the government, in general — and Bob Kennedy's special Hoffa-desk chief, Walter Sheridan, in particular — bugged Hoffa with wiretaps and electronic gadgetry.

It is Hoffa's belief, after talking to two lawyers and his family (there was also a tax specialist), that Attorney General Ramsey Clark will order the Justice Dept. men to walk to the bench and admit illegally tapping the Teamsters' General President.

This would force even the truly Olympian objectivity out of Judge Wilson — and a new trial would be ordered. Mr. Clark has done just that in other cases. His tenure has been one long series of retroactive confessions involving his predecessors.

Should this not happen Hoffa would still whistle over his mattresses or whatever other Prison Industries' job slots into which his talents lead him.

He reasons thus:

The big push to free him will roll after the 1968 presidential election. He expects nationwide mass meetings to agitate for a presidential pardon but will settle for a commuted sentence.

At the moment he knows he's too hot to handle. It was tried. There was contact with the Justice Dept. and the Bureau of Prisons in an effort to shift him from the maximum security penitentiary at Lewisburg to a freer federal correctional institution such as the ones at Milan, Mich., or Danbury, Conn. There he would have found smaller dorms and "cottage type" arrangements. He could have had many more visitors of greater freedom—no walls, just fences.

But no one would touch the "contract."

SO IT WAS decided to wait until 1969 — not so long at that and certainly within ample time to retake the truck-drivers' marble mansion near the hill here. The Teamsters' next national convention is not due until 1971.

Then the campaign would start in the echo of the presidential election's last hurrah, no matter which party won.

Of course, Hoffa wants a presidential pardon. This would restore all his civil rights to him. Barring that, there would be mass meetings demanding his sentence be commuted. By that time he will have been in prison, if he's not freed May 8, almost two years — all on good behavior.

Certainly he will have strong labor support. Certainly it will come from the AFL-CIO building and construction trades. The Teamsters may well be back into the mother federation by that time. So the drive would appear to be a demand by the nation's labor movement seeking his freedom.

IN RETROSPECT all his connections and convictions will appear obscure. It would be difficult for anyone to cry out for his imprisonment into the next decade.

During all this time, therefore, he would retain his hold on the Teamsters. Frank "Fitz" Fitzsimmons has come through the master freight contract negotiations as a colorless, but cool, steady, stablized garden - variety labor leader. He'll make a good caretaker.

So it all rests on him now. How will he use the tough, unbeatable presidential powers "Jimmy" lent him? Will Fitz be king maker, or throne seizer?

Without anwsers, the Teamsters inner political picture is distorted like reflections in funhouse mirrors.

When we get the answers this nation will know who could well become the nation's most powerful labor leader. That's what they say Jimmy dreams of over his mattresses.

Wire Trouble

An invasion of lerps can play havoc with telephone service in Australia.

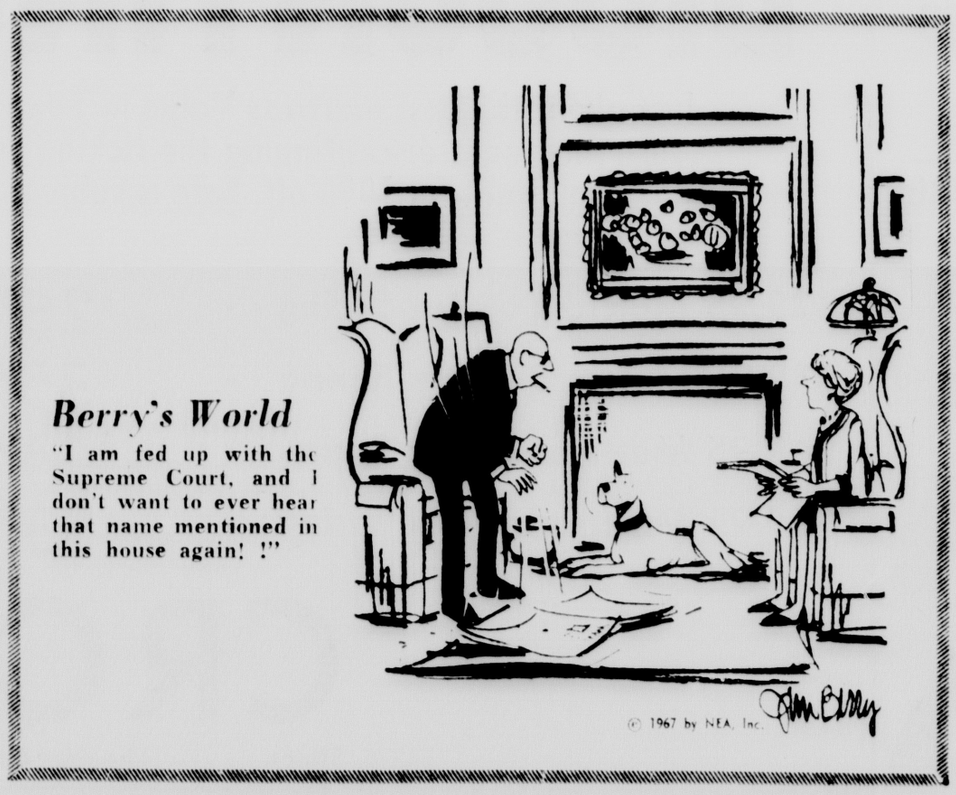
Giraffes are a king - size menace to overhead wires in Africa. Just one angry moose spells trouble for telephone poles in Minnesota. Pocket gophers riddle cables in the Midwest.

These are just a few of the animal problems that disrupt telephone service around the world, the National Geographic Society says.

The lerp, a flying insect the size of an ant, sometimes swarms in vast numbers on Australian telephone poles. The pests spin coarse gray-white webs that blow onto wires and connections, causing short circuits. A few years ago, a plague of lerps knocked out telephone service in a 50-square-mile area.

Australian magpies not only roost on telephone poles, they pick small wires from the cables for their nests. Picking the right threads causes a wrong number to ring. The person answering the phone hears nothing, not even a cheep.

In Colorado, a flock of crows built nests on telephone poles. Because vegetation was scarce, the crows used pieces of old fence wire. This wire, rubbing on the line, caused constant trouble. A hungry goose in North Dakota pecked away at the "long worm" that ran up the side of a house until it cut through the telephone line.



A Change

Svetlana Tells The World

Every now and then, human episodes raise hopes that the people of the Soviet Union will someday become their own masters and venture to express openly again the belief in God which they never have really lost.

A remarakable piece of evidence has just been revealed by a 42-year-old woman who has defected from Russia. She is a gifted writer, proficient in English, daughter of the late Josef Stalin, long the one-man ruler of the Soviet Union.

Svetlana Stalin suffered some bitter experiences.

As her husband's heart weakened, she was denied the right to take him back to his native land, but recently was granted permission to carry his ashes back to India. When she decided to talk frankly to the world, she evidently ignored the possible implication that she would be casting discredit on the Communist policies of her father.

THE DECISION to make the sacrifice only emphasizes the depth of obligation which Stalin's daughter evidently feels. She wrote a statement, released on her arrival in New York City, which says in part:

"Why did I leave Russia and come here to ask for your hospitality? There are many reasons.

"Since my childhood I have been taught communism, and I did believe in it, as we all did, my generation. But slowly, with age and experience I began to think differently. In recent years we in Russia have begun to think, to discuss, to argue, and we are not so much automatically devoted any more to the ideas which we were tuaght.

"Also, religion has done a lot to change me. I was brought up in a family where there was never any talk about God. But when I became a grown-up person I found it was impossible to exist without God in one's heart. I came to that conclusion myself, without anybody's help or preaching. But that was a great change because since that moment the main dogmas of communism lost their significance for me. . . .

"There are no capitalists and communists for me. There are good people, or bad people, honest or dishonest, and in whatever country they live people are the same everywhere, and their best expectations and moral ideals are the same. . . .

"Despite the strong motives and deep desires which have led me to the United States, I cannot forget that my children are in Moscow. But I know they will understand me and what I have done. They also belong to the new generation in our country, which does not want to be fooled by old ideas. They also want to make their own conclusions about life. Let God help them. I know they will not reject me and one day we shall meet. I will wait for that."

THIS HAPPENS to be the expression of a single individual, but it is by no means an isolated opinion. It is shared by millions of people inside Russia. Slowly but surely individual aspirations to be free become manifest.

Just 50 years ago, the Russian people threw off the yoke of the czar. They little realized that they would become victims of another autocracy which has since maintained even more rigorous discipline. But just as in 1917 the czar's army joined the revolution, so someday will the army of the communist government, too, join the revolution.

The pressure for freedom of initiative in the economic life of the Russian people is already being revealed in the dispatches this very month. Excerpts follow:

"Moscow, April 15. — The Kremlin announced plans to put 390 of the Soviet Union's state farms on a self-supporting basis by giving them more operating freedom and letting them keep most of their profits."

"Moscow, April 22. — The profit system puts more money in the pockets of workers, employers and the state, a Soviet planning official said today. . . . Tass quoted him as saying all the factories in Russia's northwestern economic district, an area three times the size of France, will be converted to the profit system by 1969."

A change toward a system of individualism is being forced on the communist regime. Some day the people will take over as they have done again and again throughout history.

Of course, Hoffa wants a presidential pardon. This would restore all his civil rights to him. Barring that, there would be mass meetings demanding his sentence be commuted. By that time he will have been in prison, if he's not freed May 8, almost two years — all on good behavior.

Certainly he will have strong labor support. Certainly it will come from the AFL-CIO building and construction trades. The Teamsters may well be back into the mother federation by that time. So the drive would appear to be a demand by the nation's labor movement seeking his freedom.

IN RETROSPECT all his connections and convictions will appear obscure. It would be difficult for anyone to cry out for his imprisonment into the next decade.

During all this time, therefore, he would retain his hold on the Teamsters. Frank "Fitz" Fitzsimmons has come through the master freight contract negotiations as a colorless, but cool, steady, stablized garden - variety labor leader. He'll make a good caretaker.

So it all rests on him now. How will he use the tough, unbeatable presidential powers "Jimmy" lent him? Will Fitz be king maker, or throne seizer?

Without anwsers, the Teamsters inner political picture is distorted like reflections in funhouse mirrors.

When we get the answers this nation will know who could well become the nation's most powerful labor leader. That's what they say Jimmy dreams of over his mattresses.

Wire Trouble

An invasion of lerps can play havoc with telephone service in Australia.

Giraffes are a king - size menace to overhead wires in Africa. Just one angry moose spells trouble for telephone poles in Minnesota. Pocket gophers riddle cables in the Midwest.

These are just a few of the animal problems that disrupt telephone service around the world, the National Geographic Society says.

The lerp, a flying insect the size of an ant, sometimes swarms in vast numbers on Australian telephone poles. The pests spin coarse gray-white webs that blow onto wires and connections, causing short circuits. A few years ago, a plague of lerps knocked out telephone service in a 50-square-mile area.

Australian magpies not only roost on telephone poles; they pick small wires from the cables for their nests. Picking the right threads causes a wrong number to ring. The person answering the phone hears nothing, not even a cheep.

In Colorado, a flock of crows built nests on telephone poles. Because vegetation was scarce, the crows used pieces of old fence wire. This wire, rubbing on the line, caused constant trouble. A hungry goose in North Dakota pecked away at the "long worm" that ran up the side of a house until it cut through the telephone line.

A Change

Svetlana Tells The World

Every now and then, human episodes raise hopes that the people of the Soviet Union will someday become their own masters and venture to express openly again the belief in God which they never have really lost.

A remarakable piece of evidence has just been revealed by a 42-year-old woman who has defected from Russia. She is a gifted writer, proficient in English, daughter of the late Josef Stalin, long the one-man ruler of the Soviet Union.

Svetlana Stalin suffered some bitter experiences.

As her husband's heart weakened, she was denied the right to take him back to his native land, but recently was granted permission to carry his ashes back to India. When she decided to talk frankly to the world, she evidently ignored the possible implication that she would be casting discredit on the Communist policies of her father.

THE DECISION to make the sacrifice only emphasizes the depth of obligation which Stalin's daughter evidently feels. She wrote a statement, released on her arrival in New York City, which says in part:

"Why did I leave Russia and come here to ask for your hospitality? There are many reasons.

"Since my childhood I have been taught communism, and I did believe in it, as we all did, my generation. But slowly, with age and experience I began to think differently. In recent years we in Russia have begun to think, to discuss, to argue, and we are not so much automatically devoted any more to the ideas which we were tuaght.

"Also, religion has done a lot to change me. I was brought up in a family where there was never any talk about God. But when I became a grown-up person, I found it was impossible to exist without God in one's heart. I came to that conclusion myself, without anybody's help or preaching. But that was a great change because since that moment the main dogmas of communism lost their significance for me. . . .

"There are no capitalists and communists for me. There are good people, or bad people, honest or dishonest, and in whatever country they live people are the same everywhere, and their best expectations and moral ideals are the same. . . .

"Despite the strong motives and deep desires which have led me to the United States, I cannot forget that my children are in Moscow. But I know they will understand me and what I have done. They also belong to the new generation in our country, which does not want to be fooled by old ideas. They also want to make their own conclusions about life. Let God help them. I know they will not reject me and one day we shall meet. I will wait for that."

THIS HAPPENS to be the expression of a single individual, but it is by no means an isolated opinion. It is shared by millions of people inside Russia. Slowly but surely individual aspirations to be free become manifest.

Just 50 years ago, the Russian people threw off the yoke of the czar. They little realized that they would become victims of another autocracy which has since maintained even more rigorous discipline. But just as in 1917 the czar's army joined the revolution, so someday will the army of the communist government, too, join the revolution.

The pressure for freedom of initiative in the economic life of the Russian people is already being revealed in the dispatches this very month. Excerpts follow:

"Moscow, April 15. — The Kremlin announced plans to put 390 of the Soviet Union's state farms on a self-supporting basis by giving them more operating freedom and letting them keep most of their profits."

"Moscow, April 22. — The profit system puts more money in the pockets of workers, employers and the state, a Soviet planning official said today. . . . Tass quoted him as saying all the factories in Russia's northwestern economic district, an area three times the size of France, will be converted to the profit system by 1969."

A change toward a system of individualism is being forced on the communist regime. Some day the people will take over as they have done again and again throughout history.

Refuse Cans To Be Painted

Thirty - five refuse containers used along sidewalks in the downtown area are scheduled to be given a new coat of white paint — a "spring cleanup" project of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

An incinerator department crew picked up the receptacles early this morning and hauled them in a truck to the department's garage on E. 2nd St. There they will be sanded and repainted by a painter engaged by the merchants' group.

John Melvin, incinerator superintendent, estimated the metal containers will be out of service four or five days. The schedule calls for sanding today, repainting tomorrow and about three days for the paint to cure before the cans are returned to their accustomed spots on the streets, he said.

The containers were provided for the city as a project of ELMA several years ago. The retailers worked in cooperation with the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., which furnished the 55-gallon metal drums, and the Toastmasters' Club, which volunteered to paint them.

The cans now are painted a dark shade of blue. Merchants said the new white finish hopefully will make the containers more visible to pedestrians and encourage more persons to drop trash in the receptacles, rather than throwing it on streets and sidewalks.

The repainting is an ELMA project in cooperation with the annual citywide spring cleanup drive in which the Chamber of Commerce civic and community affairs committee also is participating.

Talks Slated To Resume In URW Strike

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Talks are set to resume today between the United Rubber Workers and the three major companies the union has struck--Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Uniroyal, Inc., and B. F. Goodrich Co.

The strike started last Friday idling some 50,000 workers at plants around the country.

Work continues at Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the industry's fourth largest producer. Negotiations in Cincinnati are on a day-to-day basis.

Uniroyal discussions are being held in Cincinnati, Firestone in Cleveland and Goodrich in Columbus.

Firestone asked Summit County Common Pleas Court Tuesday to limit pickets to two at each gate of its four plants in the Akron area. The company claims it has been denied use of the plant parking lots.

Talks reportedly have stalled on the URW demand for a Full Employment Earnings Program which would hike unemployment benefits and provide a form of guaranteed annual wage.

Band Will Compete

EAST PALESTINE — The High School Concert Band, directed by William Rittenhouse, will compete Saturday at 2:40 p. m. in station competition at Teays Valley High School in Ashville, south of Columbus. Minerva is the only other school from this area participating in this class. Columbiana and Leetonia bands will compete in a different class. Bands participating qualified in district competition.

A tentative slate of nominees for next month's election also was submitted.

A decision was made to clean and paint the clubhouse.

Initial action was taken on a suggested pottery festival to be held this summer. The board will meet with Lloyd Rhodes, president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club, to discuss the matter.

Plans were advanced for the annual scholastic awards banquet later in May to honor Wellsville High School students.

Mike Cook, chairman of the Road-e-o committee, submitted a report and received approval for his budget.

Youth Is Cited After Accident

A 15-year-old city youth was cited after the station wagon he was operating struck a motorcycle operated by a Midland man Tuesday at 4:50 p. m. on Purinton Ave., three-tenths of a mile east of County Rd. 428.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said David Doak of Oakmont attempted to make a right turn into a private road and struck the left side of the motorcycle operated by Russell Shank, 20, of 19-A Midland Heights, Midland.

Doak was cited for driving without an operator's license. Shank was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the scalp and abrasion of the left lower leg.

Officers said the side of the motorcycle was demolished. Slight damage resulted to the left front of the 1964 station wagon.

A dog owned by Albert Hartman of Lisbon R. D. 5 was killed when it ran into the side of a car operated by Paul H. Merwin Jr., 23, of Salem at 4 p.m. on County Rd. 517, east of Route 164, officers said.

Son Of Hoffa Nominated In Michigan Bid

DETROIT (AP) — James P. Hoffa is the Democratic nominee for state representative from Detroit's 19th District.

The 25-year-old son of the jailed president of the Teamsters Union outdistanced 14 rivals in a special primary Tuesday. Admitted to the Michigan bar earlier this year, young Hoffa is a legislative aide in Lansing.

Primary plurality was sufficient for nomination, and Hoffa will meet Republican Anthony Licata in a special election May 23 in the normally Democratic district. Licata had no primary opposition.

In light voting, Hoffa led with 1,429 votes. Casmer Ogonowski was second, with 1,128.

The district has 32,622 registered voters.

The 19th District House seat became vacant with the death recently of Joseph Kowalski, Democratic leader and former speaker.

Kowalski's death gave Republicans a 55-54 edge in a former evenly split house, but Rep. James S. Nunneley, R-Mount Clemens, since has died, making the division currently 54-54.

Young Hoffa is a graduate of Michigan State University and got his law degree from the University of Michigan last year. He has been serving as a legislative aide to the Judiciary Committee under a Ford Foundation fellowship.

His father, James R. Hoffa, went to federal prison earlier this year under an eight-year sentence for jury tampering.

Boyce Discusses Industrial Work For Chester Club

Area industrial development was discussed by Robert E. Boyce, president of the First National Bank of East Liverpool, when the Chester Kiwanis Club met Tuesday night in City Hall auditorium.

The speaker was introduced by Eugene Boyce, a brother.

He reviewed the sale of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. and discussed the many prospects involved in such a transaction. While the action took several years, Boyce stressed the "results were worth the efforts put forth by all who took part for the good of the community and not for any one person or any group of persons."

The top 10 honor students of the 1967 graduating class of Oak Glen High School will be honored with a dinner by the club June 1 at 6:30 p. m. The place will be announced.

The invocation was given by Lee Adams and business was conducted by Thayer Allison, president. Sixteen members attended.

Talks Slated To Resume In URW Strike

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Talks are set to resume today between the United Rubber Workers and the three major companies the union has struck--Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Uniroyal, Inc., and B. F. Goodrich Co.

The strike started last Friday, idling some 50,000 workers at plants around the country.

Work continues at Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the industry's fourth largest producer. Negotiations in Cincinnati are on a day-to-day basis.

Uniroyal discussions are being held in Cincinnati, Firestone in Cleveland and Goodrich in Columbus.

Firestone asked Summit County Common Pleas Court Tuesday to limit pickets to two at each gate of its four plants in the Akron area. The company claims it has been denied use of the plant parking lots.

Talks reportedly have stalled on the URW demand for a Full Employment Earnings Program which would hike unemployment benefits and provide a form of guaranteed annual wage.

Band Will Compete

EAST PALESTINE — The High School Concert Band, directed by William Rittenhouse, will compete Saturday at 2:40 p. m. in station competition at Teays Valley High School in Ashville, south of Columbus. A decision was made to clean and paint the clubhouse.

Initial action was taken on a suggested pottery festival to be held this summer. The board will meet with Lloyd Rhodes, president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club, to discuss the matter.

Plans were advanced for the annual scholastic awards banquet later in May to honor Wellsville High School students.

Mike Cook, chairman of the Road-e-o committee, submitted a report and received approval for his budget.

Drifting Auto Hits Another; Boys Blamed

Two small boys may have loosened the emergency brake on a parked auto late Tuesday afternoon in Daisy Ln., allowing it to drift downgrade and strike a fence and another parked car, police reported.

The drifting auto, owned by Walter H. Crawford of 822 Daisy Ln., hit a parked 1959 two-door sedan owned by Okey Fryman of 747 Daisy Ln. and also damaged a wire fence and post at Fryman's property, officers said.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick, who investigated, said he was given the names of two boys who had been seen around the auto. When he talked to the two one 9 and the other 5, each blamed the other, he reported. The officer said he will report their names to County Juvenile Officer James Miller.

The mishap was timed at 4:55 p. m. Fryman told police he was in his home when he heard a crash, looked outside and saw the Crawford auto had hit his car and the fence at his home. A small boy who was sitting in the Crawford car then fled on foot, he related.

Crawford told police he parked his car on a slight grade, but set the brake and placed a stone under one of the rear wheels. The officer said one or both of the boys apparently climbed into Crawford's car and loosened the brake. Damage to both cars was comparatively minor.

Officers were investigating a hit-skip collision reported Tuesday at 10:30 p. m. at 3rd and Market Sts.

Charlene R. Taylor, 18, of 1324 Ceramic St. said she halted her 1961 four - door sedan for a traffic signal and it was struck from the rear by another car. When she got out of the car to check the damage, the other motorist drove away, she related. She gave police a license number and description of the auto.

Meanwhile, William R. Jarrett, 36, of 1230 Chaffin St. escaped unhurt Tuesday at 5:33 p. m. when his 1959 model pickup truck overturned on its right side on Pennsylvania Ave. 3000 feet west of State St., officers said.

Jarrett told police antoher vehicle halted ahead of him and when he applied his brakes the left front wheel "grabbed" and caused his truck to overturn. Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who investigated, said a check showed the right rear wheel of the truck had come loose, which would have contributed to the mishap. Firemen were called to flush spilled gasoline from the pavement.

Troops Are Withdraw From Most Of Athens

ATHENS (AP)—Troops were withdrawn from most parts of Athens today as calm prevailed throughout Greece, but the new military government kept the country under tight rein.

The new rulers are acting under a 55-year-old siege law that strips the people of most of the guarantees normal to a democracy.

The law provides for:

— Arrest of anyone without a warrant and indefinite detention awaiting trial;

— No bail for political prisoners;

— Bans on gatherings of more than five persons, labor unions and all strikes;

— Censorship of press, radio, letters and all other communications.

The law was bolstered by an army order giving military authorities the right to search private homes; requiring all hunting rifles, shotguns and ammunition to be turned in to the nearest police station; canceling all hunting licenses and forbidding all hunting, and requiring heads of households to report all persons living with them and any visitors or foreigners.

The government announced, however, that it has set up a special office to receive complaints against the new regime. The announcement said that if a grievance is not satisfied within 48 hours, the complainant can take his case to the Interior Ministry.

There still was no word when King Constantine would make his promised speech supporting the new government installed after the army coup last Friday. The government insists that the 26-year-old monarch supports the coup and would prove it by addressing the nation and presiding over a Cabinet meeting this week.

Constantine has kept silent and out of sight. Informants said he is spending most of his time at the Tatoi summer palace outside Athens with his wife, Queen Anne-Marie and their infant daughter, Alexia.

In an obvious move to win support of the rural population, Premier Constantine Kollias announced that farmers' pensions would be increased by 70 per cent by the end of the year.

In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference the U.S. government is reviewing its military and economic aid for Greece.

Drifting Auto Hits Another; Boys Blamed

Two small boys may have loosened the emergency brake on a parked auto late Tuesday afternoon in Daisy Ln., allowing it to drift downgrade and strike a fence and another parked car, police reported.

The drifting auto, owned by Walter H. Crawford of 822 Daisy Ln., hit a parked 1959 two-door sedan owned by Okey Fryman of 747 Daisy Ln. and also damaged a wire fence and post at Fryman's property, officers said.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick, who investigated, said he was given the names of two boys who had been seen around the auto. When he talked to the two one 9 and the other 5, each blamed the other, he reported. The officer said he will report their names to County Juvenile Officer James Miller.

The mishap was timed at 4:55 p. m. Fryman told police he was in his home when he heard a crash, looked outside and saw the Crawford auto had hit his car and the fence at his home. A small boy who was sitting in the Crawford car then fled on foot, he related.

Crawford told police he parked his car on a slight grade, but set the brake and placed a stone under one of the rear wheels. The officer said one or both of the boys apparently climbed into Crawford's car and loosened the brake. Damage to both cars was comparatively minor.

Officers were investigating a hit-skip collision reported Tuesday at 10:30 p. m. at 3rd and Market Sts.

Charlene R. Taylor, 18, of 1324 Ceramic St. said she halted her 1961 four - door sedan for a traffic signal and it was struck from the rear by another car. When she got out of the car to check the damage, the other motorist drove away, she related. She gave police a license number and description of the auto.

Meanwhile, William R. Jarrett, 36, of 1230 Chaffin St. escaped unhurt Tuesday at 5:33 p. m. when his 1959 model pickup truck overturned on its right side on Pennsylvania Ave. 3000 feet west of State St., officers said.

Jarrett told police antoher vehicle halted ahead of him and when he applied his brakes the left front wheel "grabbed" and caused his truck to overturn. Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who investigated, said a check showed the right rear wheel of the truck had come loose, which would have contributed to the mishap. Firemen were called to flush spilled gasoline from the pavement.

Troops Are Withdraw From Most Of Athens

ATHENS (AP)—Troops were withdrawn from most parts of Athens today as calm prevailed throughout Greece, but the new military government kept the country under tight rein.

The new rulers are acting under a 55-year-old siege law that strips the people of most of the guarantees normal to a democracy.

The law provides for:

— Arrest of anyone without a warrant and indefinite detention awaiting trial;

— No bail for political prisoners;

— Bans on gatherings of more than five persons, labor unions and all strikes;

— Censorship of press, radio, letters and all other communications.

The law was bolstered by an army order giving military authorities the right to search private homes; requiring all hunting rifles, shotguns and ammunition to be turned in to the nearest police station; canceling all hunting licenses and forbidding all hunting, and requiring heads of households to report all persons living with them and any visitors or foreigners.

The government announced, however, that it has set up a special office to receive complaints against the new regime. The announcement said that if a grievance is not satisfied within 48 hours, the complainant can take his case to the Interior Ministry.

There still was no word when King Constantine would make his promised speech supporting the new government installed after the army coup last Friday. The government insists that the 26-year-old monarch supports the coup and would prove it by addressing the nation and presiding over a Cabinet meeting this week.

Constantine has kept silent and out of sight. Informants said he is spending most of his time at the Tatoi summer palace outside Athens with his wife, Queen Anne-Marie and their infant daughter, Alexia.

In an obvious move to win support of the rural population, Premier Constantine Kollias announced that farmers' pensions would be increased by 70 per cent by the end of the year.

In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference the U.S. government is reviewing its military and economic aid for Greece.

Boycotts Of Supermarkets Improved Buyer-Seller Link

WASHINGTON (AP) — Boycotts of supermarkets by disgruntled housewives last year paid off mainly in improved communication between buyer and seller, says Esther Peterson.

Mrs. Peterson, special assistant to the President for consumer affairs, sees this as all to the good, even though it probably wasn't what the ladies on the picket lines were fighting for.

"The demand primarily was for lower prices and fewer promotional devices," she said Tuesday in assessing the short-lived revolts.

"Measurable results were relatively few and far between. But the protests were a catalyst to an already growing business awareness of consumer dissatisfaction, and led to even stronger efforts to explain industry's problem.

"In the long run, this changed attitude should be beneficial to both consumers and businessmen alike."

Betty Furness, the former TV refrigerator saleslady, will take over as the consumers' spokesman in Washington May 1. Mrs. Peterson, who has been juggling both jobs for three years now, is going back fulltime to her post as assistant secretary of labor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Air Force official cites a rocket fuel contract on which Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. reaped a 49 per cent profit as typical of the way the services occasionally are put over a barrel when there is only one supplier for something they want to buy.

In a report to Congress Tuesday, Elmer B. Staats, comptroller general of the Air Force, said Olin received $28 million for fuel for Titan missiles and its costs were $19 million. By supplying some of the raw material from its own chemical plant the company turned an additional profit of $1.8 million, he said.

Neither party to the contract knew in advance how much the project would cost but there should be "some protection against an unreasonably high price," Staats said.

In rebuttal, Olin said it had suffered major losses on earlier fuel contracts with the government. When the fuel for the Titan was needed urgently, the company said, "Olin was apparently the only company in which the Air Force had confidence as a potential supplier of these requirements."

Mrs. Viola Harrold presented the social hour program, which included group singing, vocal solos by Mrs. Herbert Weaver and poems read by Mrs. Charles Morlan and Mrs. Merle McPherson.

Lunch was served by the social committee. Mrs. Richard Duke and Mrs. Harrold used sea shells for favors and table decorations.

Places of honor at the head of the table were reserved for Mrs. Minnie Figley, 90, and Mrs. William Carroll and Mrs. Walter Sebrell, both married 50 years ago this summer.

Jurist Dies At 92

HONOLULU (AP) — Delbert E. Metzger, a former federal judge and one of Hawaii's most respected jurists, died Monday. He was 92. Once, as part of a campaign against excessive military control of Hawaii's territorial government during World War II, he fined the commanding general in Hawaii $5,000 for contempt of court.

Russell Wins Key Test In Fund Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long has won a key test in the fight to save his presidential election campaign financing law, subject of a monumental debate that has snarled the Senate for four weeks.

Long, D-La., emerged the victor Tuesday in a 43-41 vote against a bid by opponents of the finance plan to, in effect, uphold an earlier Senate vote to repeal the plan.

That set up the possibility of a showdown vote later today on a Long move to overturn the repealer.

Earlier, the Senate voted 88-0 for an outer-space treaty described by President Johnson as a key plank in his East-West "bridge-building" program.

The pact would prohibit nonpeaceful uses of outer space and provide for on-site inspection. It states "no nation can claim sovereignty to outer space," the moon and other celestial bodies.

The campaign financing plan, signed into law last year, could make available up to $30 million each to the Democratic and Republican parties in the 1968 presidential race. It allows taxpayers to allot $1 of their federal income taxes to the campaign, with the money to be split between the two major parties.

Battleground for the campaign financing fight has been an administration bill that would restore tax incentives urgently sought by business interests. The bill already has cleared the House.

In the meantime, Long encouraged adding a number of other amendments to the tax bill — dealing with subjects ranging from meat imports to income tax credits for parents of college students.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield stepped into the fray with a motion to eliminate nearly all the extraneous provisions from the bill, many of them strongly opposed by the Johnson administration. But it would have left on one rider — a repealer of the Long plan.

Long and other Democratic senators have been trying to get Mansfield to alter his motion. In an emotion-packed speech Tuesday, Mansfield told the Senate he had decided to do so, but only with the consent of Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and John J. Williams, R-Del., co-authors of the repealer amendment.

The Bahama Islands extend about 750 miles.

BEWARE OF HEAD INJURIES

Skull fractures and other head injuries need not be serious. It is only when the brain is involved that real trouble occurs. For the brain is contained within the rigid cavity of the skull. There is no room for expansion of an injury, like what happens when a cut causes the hand or foot to swell.

Anyone rendered unconscious by a head-blow requires a physician's immediate attention. Persistent headache, dizziness, excessive fatigue, or vomiting are warning symptoms of a possible concussion. Take care of your brain.

Russell Wins Key Test In Fund Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long has won a key test in the fight to save his presidential election campaign financing law, subject of a monumental debate that has snarled the Senate for four weeks.

Long, D-La., emerged the victor Tuesday in a 43-41 vote against a bid by opponents of the finance plan to, in effect, uphold an earlier Senate vote to repeal the plan.

That set up the possibility of a showdown vote later today on a Long move to overturn the repealer.

Earlier, the Senate voted 88-0 for an outer-space treaty described by President Johnson as a key plank in his East-West "bridge-building" program.

The pact would prohibit nonpeaceful uses of outer space and provide for on-site inspection. It states "no nation can claim sovereignty to outer space," the moon and other celestial bodies.

The campaign financing plan, signed into law last year, could make available up to $30 million each to the Democratic and Republican parties in the 1968 presidential race. It allows taxpayers to allot $1 of their federal income taxes to the campaign, with the money to be split between the two major parties.

Battleground for the campaign financing fight has been an administration bill that would restore tax incentives urgently sought by business interests. The bill already has cleared the House.

In the meantime, Long encouraged adding a number of other amendments to the tax bill — dealing with subjects ranging from meat imports to income tax credits for parents of college students.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield stepped into the fray with a motion to eliminate nearly all the extraneous provisions from the bill, many of them strongly opposed by the Johnson administration. But it would have left on one rider — a repealer of the Long plan.

Long and other Democratic senators have been trying to get Mansfield to alter his motion. In an emotion-packed speech Tuesday, Mansfield told the Senate he had decided to do so, but only with the consent of Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and John J. Williams, R-Del., co-authors of the repealer amendment.

The Bahama Islands extend about 750 miles.

Bob Aspromonte has lined up Howard and Jim Fregosi on the pitchers union's Unwanted List.

But the Houston third baseman rates a special spot — alongside ex-teammate Joe Amalfitano — on Al Jackson's personal ledger.

Jackson, St. Louis' stylish little left-hander, allowed only one hit — a leadoff single by Aspromonte in the eighth inning — as the Cardinals blanked the staggering Astros 4-0 Tuesday night.

It was the third one-hitter in the majors this spring — and the second for Jackson in his seven-year National League career. Each time, he has picked on Houston.

Bill Rohr of Boston, making his first big league start 11 days ago against New York, held the Yankees hitless until Howard singled with two out in the ninth. Two days later, Baltimore's Steve Barber went into the ninth with a no-hitter against California before yielding a one-out single by Fregosi.

In 1962, Jackson's first year with the New York Mets, the slender sinkerballer fired a one-hitter against Houston, giving up a first-inning single to Amalfitano before slamming the door.

Aspromonte broke up the no-hit bit Tuesday night with a line shot to left. Otherwise, Jackson who came to St. Louis in a 1965 winter trade and posted a 13-15 record last year, was in complete command. He walked three and struck out three in hiking his early-season record to 2-1.

"It was one of my best games because I was in control all the way," he said afterward. "The pressure stopped building after we got the 4-0 lead. Then, the long ball wouldn't have hurt as much."

While Jackson was pinning Houston with its ninth straight loss, Juan Marichal won for the first time in four decisions, scattering seven hits in the Giants' 6-1 victory over Cincinnati.

In other National League games the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings behind rookie Tom Seaver's four-hitter; Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 7-3 and Atlanta rocked Los Angeles 7-1.

Catcher Tim McCarver gave Jackson all the help he needed with a two-run homer off loser Chris Zachary in the second inning. Lou Brock doubled and scored in the third, then rapped a run-scoring single in the fourth.

Marichal, who held out for a month this spring after compiling a 25-6 mark in 1966, then lost his first three starts, ended Cincinnati's five-game winning string after pitching out of jams in the second and third innings.

Tony Perez' sixth-inning homer ruined the Giant ace's shutout bid.

Jim Hart pounded a two-run homer in the first inning, Marichal doubled another run across in the second and the Giants knocked out Cincinnati rookie Gary Nolan with three more in the sixth.

Seaver singled for the Mets in the 10th inning, took second on a sacrifice and third on a wild pitch, and scored the winning run on Al Luplow's single. The Cubs had tied it in the ninth when Don Kessinger scored from second on a two-out error by shortstop Ken Harrelson.

Willie Stargell lashed a homer and single, drove in four runs and led the Pirates past Philadelphia. Reliever Billy O'Dell blanked the Phillies over the last 4 1-3 innings to earn the victory.

Rico Carty slammed a two-run homer and Mack Jones knocked in two runs with a single and double as the Braves trimmed the Dodgers behind right-hander Ken Johnson, who scattered seven hits.

Sometimes even the best laid plans go awry. Steve Hargan's did, but he improvised well.

"The last thing I wanted to do was walk Tony Oliva," the Cleveland pitcher said Tuesday night. "I was trying to give him a chance to hit."

But with two out in the ninth and Hargan breezing along on a two hitter and a 1-0 lead, the Minnesota right fielder did walk.

"I wasn't planning on pitching to Harmon Killebrew in the ninth inning," Hargan said.

Plan or no plan, there at the plate stood the Twins' slugger.

Hargan struck him out.

The 24-year-old right-hander did more than just pitch in picking up his second straight victory — both shutouts. He scored the only run.

With one out in the sixth, Hargan beat out an infield hit, went to third on Vic Davalillo's double and scored on Max Alvis' sacrifice fly.

The only run Hargan, the lone Cleveland pitcher to go the route this season, has given up in 20 1-3 innings was unearned, and it tagged him with his one defeat. It came during a 2 1-3-inning relief stint in the Indians' 4-3 opening day loss to Kansas City.

In other American League games Tuesday, the New York Yankees took over first place by trouncing the Chicago White Sox 11-2, Baltimore nipped California 2-1, Detroit blanked Kansas City 5-0 and Boston walloped Washington 9-3.

The Yankees broke a 2-2 tie by scoring six times in the fifth inning on four singles, Charley Smith's double, two walks, a wild pitch and an error.

Whitey Ford, who won his second game against one loss, contributed two singles to the Yankees' 17-hit attack. Smith also had another double and two singles.

Frank Robinson was the key man in Baltimore's victory, driving in a run with a sacrifice fly in the third inning and tripling and scoring on Brooks Robinson's single in the sixth. Tom Phoebus made the two runs stand up, with California scoring only in the seventh.

Joe Sparma allowed only five hits while his Detroit mates made the most of the same number of hits in beating Kansas City. The Tigers scored four times in the first inning on three singles and a sacrifice fly and once in the seventh on Dick McAuliffe's homer.

Al Kaline of Detroit extended his hitting streak to 11 games with a single.

A three-run homer by Mike Andrews, solo blasts by Reggie Smith and Tony Conigliaro and Carl Yastrzemski's two-run double powered Boston past Washington.

$883.40 Paid For Perfecta At Waterford

Daily double and perfecta prices went from one extreme to the other last night at Waterford Park. The winners of the daily double combination of Sad Sport (5) in the first race and Walter W. W. (6) in the second received $18.40.

The perfecta race, No. 4 on the program, was a different story as Interrogative and Shannon Road finished in that order and paid $883.40, the highest perfecta payoff of the 1967 Waterford Park season. The previous high perfecta payoff was $830.00 in early March.

D. Raymond Karpa, the Pittsburgh boy who rode his first winner last Tuesday, was aboard Shannon Road to be part of the huge perfecta payoff.

A Pennsylvania bred and owned filly produced a Pittsburgh flavor in the feature purse for two-year-old runners. Winner of the baby race was Hurry Right In owned and bred by Anthony "Tony" LaFace of Pittsburgh. Hurry Right In was making only the second start of her career.

Jockey Gene Conto was tossed from his mount Foolin' Again as the horses broke from the starting gate. He was uninjured although badly shaken up.

Cubs Obtain Radatz In Deal With Indians

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick (The Minister) Radatz, righthanded relief pitcher, was obtained from Cleveland Tuesday by the Chicago Cubs for cash and a player to be named later.

The 6-foot-5, 260-pounder had two big years with the Boston Red Sox. He was 15-6 in 1963 and 16-9 in 1964.

John Boccabella, who broke his elbow as a Chicago Cub first baseman last season, is listed on their spring roster as a catcher.

Miami Being Considered For Super Bowl In 1968

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, conferred with Orange Bowl officials Tuesday and said Miami is strongly being considered for the 1968 Super Bowl football game.

Rozelle met with the Orange Bowl Committee, Mayor Robert King High, and the City Commission.

The first Super Bowl game between the National and American Football League champions was played last January at Los Angeles. Rozelle said a final decision for the 1968 site will be made by a special committee of club owners at a May 23 meeting in New York.

The Miami Herald said Rozelle confirmed that Miami faces competition from Los Angeles, were the leagues have an option to return for two years; New Orleans, which reportedly will offer free use of the Sugar Bowl, and Dallas and Houston.

High said Rozelle told him financial terms will not be the sole facto in choosing a site.

"We want to pay our way," Rozelle told the officials. He said Los Angeles charged 10 per cent of the gross with a maximum of $50,000 for use of the Coliseum. He recalled this ceiling made the rental charge on a gate of $700,000 about seven per cent.

Rozelle said Miami has strong support from club owners in both leagues and listed the city's main advantages as:

—Favorable weather conditions and an enlarged Orange Bowl which will seat 75,000 persons by 1968.

—Miami's proximity to larger cities in the two leagues and the abundance of first-class accommodations.

—Appreciation of NFL owners for support given to the Playoff Bowl by Miamians for seven years and efforts of the Orange Bowl Committee in developing the game.

"We are very pleased with the warmth and enthusiasm of the committee for this game," Rozelle said. "That could be a factor because we want to go where we're wanted."

Rozelle said he would go to New Orleans within two weeks to hear that city's proposal.

Hawks' Mikita Named Most Valuable In NHL

TORONTO (AP) — Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks was named winner today of the Hart Memorial Trophy as the National Hockey League's most valuable player and the Lady Byng Trophy for sportsmanship and superior performance.

Other post-season honors went to Harry Howell of the New York Rangers, chosen the circuit's outstanding defenseman, and Bobby Orr, 19-year-old Boston defenseman, as the rookie-of-the-year. Howell will receive the Norris Memorial Trophy and Or the Calder Memorial Trophy.

Mikita, a center, is the first player in NHL history to capture three awards in one season. He also won the Art Ross Trophy for leading the league in scoring with a record-equaling 97 points.

Mikita received 168 points in the Hart Trophy voting by hockey writers and broadcasters in the league's six cities. Ed Giacomin, New York Rangers' goalie, was second with 57 points followed by Chicago's Bobby Hull, the MVP the previous two seasons, 21 points.

A combative player during his first seven years in the big league, Mikita was assessed only 12 penalty minutes in 1966-67. He accumulated 145 in the Byng balloting. Dave Keon of Toronto was second with 35 points and Phil Govette of the Rangers was third with 33.

Howell, in winning the Norris Trophy for the first time, edged Chicago's Pierre Pilote, the recipient three straight years starting in 1962-63. Howell collected 113 points and Pilote 95.

Orr was a runaway victor for rookie honors. He drew 168 points while Ed Van Impe, Chicago defenseman, was the runner-up with 86.

Each award winner will receive $1,000 and the runner-up $500. In addition, the leaders in each half of the campaign will receive an additional $250.

Appeals In U.S. District Court

Clay Throws Last Punch In Bid To Beat Induction

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay and his lawyers threw one final desperate punch today in an effort to block the heavyweight champion's induction into the Army Friday.

They went before U.S. Dist. Judge Allen B. Hannay with an appeal that the government be prevented from taking criminal action against Clay until settlement of a lawsuit challenging the Selective Service system.

The suit, a ponderous 67-age document naming the director of Selective Service and 29 others as defendants, was filed Tuesday.

Judge Hannay agreed to listen to Clay's lawyers, Hayden Covington of New York and Quinnan Hodges of Houston today.

These talks are to determine whether a formal hearing on the matter should be held before the heavyweight champion is asked to take the oath at 8 a.m. Friday.

Clay, who calls himself Muhammad Ali and insists he is a Black Muslin minister, says he will refuse to take the necessary step forward when his name is called.

Failure to do so makes him subject to a possible $10,000 fine, five-year prison sentence, or both.

The champion says he'll go to jail first.

"I will not disgrace my religion, my people or myself by becoming a tool to enslave those who are fighting for justice, equality and freedom," Clay said.

Observers said there was scant chance the heavyweight champion would be given temporary relief by the latest legal maneuver. The U.S. Supreme Court already has twice rejected Clay's plea, the last time on Monday.

Clay, in his suit, contends that Negroes are discriminated against by Selective Service boards because these boards to not have a representative number of Negro members.

The petition alleges that the director of the Selective Service System, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, and Rep. L. Mendell Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, had made statements prejudical to Clay's case.

Clay flew here Tuesday from Washington, conferred with his lawyers and then rushed to Chicago, apparently for a talk with Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslin movement in this country.

"My loyalty is to Elijah and Allah," said Clay.

The champion was subdued during his brief visit in Houston, which he now calls home.

Covington said every legal move will be taken to give Clay a stay from the confrontation with the government.

"If this fails, then the decision is up to Clay," Covington said. "We don't try to influence him on what he should do."

Hornets Open Finals In AHL

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Hornets go after their third American Hockey League Calder Cup as a farewell momento tonight and find the cards stacked in their favor.

Pittsburgh, which moves up to the National Hockey League next year as the Penguins, faces the Rochester Americans in a best-of-seven series which has five of the games set for the Hornets' congenial Civic Arena.

Defending champion Rochester gets to play only the second and sixth games--if it gets that far--in the Americans' War Memorial Auditorium. The hockey team was crowded out by other events already scheduled for the hall.

The Americans lost all four of their games in Pittsburgh during the regular season.

Western Division champion Pittsburgh hasn't played a game since it eliminated Eastern Division champion Hershey four games to one two weeks ago. However, the Hornets have been drilling regularly.

Wade Blasingame, who won 16 games in 1965, won only three for the Atlanta Braves last season and is hoping to make a comeback.

Beaver Local Wins 3 To 0

Jeff Hall, a senior, turned in his third two-hit shutout of the season Tuesday afternoon as Beaver Local defeated Toronto 3-0 at the Beaver Local diamond. He struck out 10 and walked only 2.

The Beavers now have two victories against no defeats in Buckeye Border Conference competition.

Hall's over-all record is 3 and 2.

Beaver Local pushed across a run in the first and two in the sixth, with Leftfielder Lew Brown, the leadoff man, getting two of his teams four hits.

Beaver Local will meet Springfield Local of Mahoning County at 4 p. m. today at home and Friday will battle Hubbard in sectional play at Oakland Field, Youngstown, at 4 p. m.

He struck out 10 and walked 2.

In Reality Scratched From Kentucky Derby

CHERRY HILL, N. J. (AP) — In Reality, winner of the Florida Derby, was declared out of the May 6 running of the Kentucky Derby Tuesday by trainer Melvin Sunshine Calvert.

No reason was given by Calvert other than to say, "The decision was mine and mine alone. I believe it is in the best interests of the horse." In Reality is owned by Mrs. Frances A. Genter and is stabled at Garden State Park here.

Calvert added that the Preakness at Pimlico on May 20 and the Jersey Derby on May 30 at Garden State "Definitely are in our plans. I believe In Reality is the type of a horse who can put two races together as close as the 10 days separating the Preakness and Jersey Derby."

Jackson Spins 1-Hitter As Cards Blank Astros, 4-0

Giants Whip Reds, 6-1; Bucs Top Phils, 7-3; Braves Blast LA

By DICK COUCH

Bob Aspromonte has lined up Howard and Jim Fregosi on the pitchers union's Unwanted List.

But the Houston third baseman rates a special spot — alongside ex-teammate Joe Amalfitano — on Al Jackson's personal ledger.

Jackson, St. Louis' stylish little left-hander, allowed only one hit — a leadoff single by Aspromonte in the eighth inning — as the Cardinals blanked the staggering Astros 4-0 Tuesday night.

It was the third one-hitter in the majors this spring — and the second for Jackson in his seven-year National League career. Each time, he has picked on Houston.

Willie Stargell lashed a homer and single, drove in four runs and led the Pirates past Philadelphia. Reliever Billy O'Dell blanked the Phillies over the last 4 1-3 innings to earn the victory.

Miami Being Considered For Super Bowl In 1968

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, conferred with Orange Bowl officials Tuesday and said Miami is strongly being considered for the 1968 Super Bowl football game.

Rozelle met with the Orange Bowl Committee, Mayor Robert King High, and the City Commission.

The first Super Bowl game between the National and American Football League champions was played last January at Los Angeles. Rozelle said a final decision for the 1968 site will be made by a special committee of club owners at a May 23 meeting in New York.

Clay Throws Last Punch In Bid To Beat Induction

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay and his lawyers threw one final desperate punch today in an effort to block the heavyweight champion's induction into the Army Friday.

They went before U.S. Dist. Judge Allen B. Hannay with an appeal that the government be prevented from taking criminal action against Clay until settlement of a lawsuit challenging the Selective Service system.

Hornets Open Finals In AHL

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Hornets go after their third American Hockey League Calder Cup as a farewell momento tonight and find the cards stacked in their favor.

Pittsburgh, which moves up to the National Hockey League next year as the Penguins, faces the Rochester Americans in a best-of-seven series which has five of the games set for the Hornets' congenial Civic Arena.

Defending champion Rochester gets to play only the second and sixth games--if it gets that far--in the Americans' War Memorial Auditorium. The hockey team was crowded out by other events already scheduled for the hall.

The Americans lost all four of their games in Pittsburgh during the regular season.

Western Division champion Pittsburgh hasn't played a game since it eliminated Eastern Division champion Hershey four games to one two weeks ago. However, the Hornets have been drilling regularly.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Al Jackson, Cardinals, pitched a one-hitter — Bob Aspromonte's eighth-inning single—in St. Louis' 4-0 victory over Houston.

BATTING — Frank Robinson, Orioles, drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and scored another after hitting a triple in Baltimore's 2-1 victory over California.

Movies On Baseball To Be Shown Friday

Two movies on baseball will be shown Friday night at the Elks ballroom under the auspices of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Bud Steffen, club president, said the films will be on the 1966 World Series and "How To Play Winning Baseball."

The public is invited to the program, which will get under way at 7.

Wade Blasingame, who won 16 games in 1965, won only three for the Atlanta Braves last season and is hoping to make a comeback.

Beaver Local Wins 3 To 0

Jeff Hall, a senior, turned in his third two-hit shutout of the season Tuesday afternoon as Beaver Local defeated Toronto 3-0 at the Beaver Local diamond. He struck out 10 and walked only 2.

The Beavers now have two victories against no defeats in Buckeye Border Conference competition.

Hall's over-all record is 3 and 2.

Beaver Local pushed across a run in the first and two in the sixth, with Leftfielder Lew Brown, the leadoff man, getting two of his teams four hits.

Beaver Local will meet Springfield Local of Mahoning County at 4 p. m. today at home and Friday will battle Hubbard in sectional play at Oakland Field, Youngstown, at 4 p. m.

He struck out 10 and walked 2.

Cowboys Sign Clark

DALLAS (AP) — Phil Clark, 21, defensive back for Northwestern, was signed Tuesday by the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. The 6-foot-2½, 211-pound Clark was the Cowboys' first draft choice.

In Reality Scratched From Kentucky Derby

CHERRY HILL, N. J. (AP) — In Reality, winner of the Florida Derby, was declared out of the May 6 running of the Kentucky Derby Tuesday by trainer Melvin Sunshine Calvert.

No reason was given by Calvert other than to say, "The decision was mine and mine alone. I believe it is in the best interests of the horse." In Reality is owned by Mrs. Frances A. Genter and is stabled at Garden State Park here.

Calvert added that the Preakness at Pimlico on May 20 and the Jersey Derby on May 30 at Garden State "Definitely are in our plans. I believe In Reality is the type of a horse who can put two races together as close as the 10 days separating the Preakness and Jersey Derby."

Bruising Marathon NHL Victory

Leafs Win, 3-2, To Take Lead In Stanley Cup, 2-1

TORONTO (AP) — "Us old warhorses are better in a longer race," said a happy Marcel Pronovost.

The veteran Toronto defenseman was in the Maple Leafs' dressing room, resting up from his club's bruising 3-2 marathon victory over Montreal Tuesday night in the final Stanley Cup playoff round.

Not until Bob Pulford found an almost open net at 8:26 of the second sudden-death overtime did the Leafs win the game that gave them a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 series for the coveted hockey cup. The fourth game will be played here Thursday.

"I had the whole net to shoot at," said Pulford, noting that Montreal's rookie goalkeeper Rogatien Vachon was on the far side of the goal.

"Pete Stemkowski cleared it out to Jimmy Pappin and I don't know whether he saw me or not, but anyway he knew I should be there and he laid it right on my stick.

"It was the greatest goal of my life."

The clubs ended the regulation three periods tied 2-2. John Ferguson tied it for the Canadiens with 50 seconds left in the second period after Pappin had put the Leafs ahead 2-1 midway through that period.

Jean Beliveau scored in the opening minutes of the game for the Canadiens but Stemkowski tipped in a shot for the Leafs in the same period. After that the long game seemed to affect both clubs.

"We missed a lot of chances," said Ron Ellis of the Leafs. "But you just have to keep shooting and hope they'll go in."

Both Johnny Bower, Toronto's 42-year-old veteran goaltender, and Vachon turned in sterling performances in the net, with Bower picking up 60 saves and Vachon stopping 51 shots.

"We trained all year for this," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach, who believes there is no substitute for practice and hard work. "I thought the club was getting stronger as we went along." Frank Mahovlich, Toronto forward, agreed, saying, "We seemed to pick up momentum as the overtime progressed."

Though the game lasted 1 hour, 28 minutes and 26 seconds, it was far from the Stanley Cup record of 2 hours, 56 minutes and 30 seconds set in 1936 when Detroit outlasted the Montreal Maroons 1-0.

Toronto captain George Armstrong said he was tired, "but you always keep going. You get yourself up for the game and you stay with it until it's over — win or lose."

Vachon, in the Montreal dressing room, said he was not disheartened by the loss.

"Next time, it will be my turn," he said.

Updegraff Now Favorite In North-South Amateur

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — This could be the year that Dr. Ed Updegraff finally wins the Men's North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

The 45-year-old Tucson, Ariz., urologist was the man everyone was keeping an eye on as today's third and fourth round began.

Updegraff came up with the best performance of the tournament Tuesday in trimming capable John Guenther of Reading, Pa., 5 and 3 with a four-under-par effort over the 7,000-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Guenther, who was one under and had eagled the par 4 seventh hole with a 125-yard nine iron shot to temporarily even the match, paid this stunned tribute to his conqueror:

"I never thought you could get beat that badly and play that well."

Updegraff knows exactly how Guenther felt. Last year when Ward Wettlaufer won the tournament, Updegraff fired a two under par round against him in the semifinals, only to lose 1-up.

That was Updegraff's third trip to the semifinals in six visits here. He's a two time Western Amateur champion and twice played on the U.S. Walker Cup team.

Updegraff was tucked away in the bottom quarter of the draw. His third-round opponent was Dr. R. A. Impaglia of Auburn, N.Y.

The Walker Cup delegation, still not near the form it is hoping to display against the British in Sandwich, England, next month, survived the second although none of the four men managed to equal par.

Today Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., whose play thus far has been the best of the Cup quartet, moved against Don Kelly of Auburn, Ind. Teammate Jack Lewis of Florence, S.C., met Bob Lowry of Huntsville, Ala.

Another Cup ace, Bob Murphy of Nichols, Fla., faced Harry Welch, Carolinas Amateur champion from Salisbury, N.C., and Jim Grant, fourth Cup player, from Wethersfield, Conn., played dangerous little Wayne Jackson of Hampston, Va.

Southpaw Glynn Perkins of Virginia Beach, Va., author of Tuesday's major upset, went against Frank Strafaci of Miami, Fla., two-time North and South champion in the 30s

Denver Man Rolls Perfect Game In ABC

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Les Schissler of Denver fractured a 64-year jinx Tuesday night when he rolled the first perfect game in the team event in the history of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Schissler, bowling with the Ace Mitchell Shur-Hooks of Akron, Ohio, opened with 219 before he rolled the 300. He started his third game with five strikes to run his string to 17, equalling the record for successive strikes set by Billy Knox of Philadelphia in 1913.

Schissler had 234 in the final game for a 753 series. The Shur-Hooks, defending classic team champions, totaled 3,148. They need only 2,908 in the second block Wednesday to overtake the Detroit Strohs who took the classic lead Wednesday with a six game total of 6,056.

Lou Scalia of Miami, moved into the classic all-events lead Tuesday night with a 2,042.

Oak Glen's Golfers Lose

Oak Glen's golf team dropped a 10 to 5 match to Wellsburg Tuesday at the Highland course in Wellsburg.

Bob Glass garnered three points for the Golden Panthers with a 45 while John Finley picked up two with 50. Phil Hudok carded a 52, Carl Watson 53 and Jack Burnquist a 56.

Ron Haggerman, the medalist, shot a 41 for the low score of the match. Chuch Bell shot 46, Skip Cawthorne 47, Bob Bowman 50 and Jay Potter 54.

Oak Glen's next match will be Thursday against Weirton at the Woodview course south of New Cumberland.

Akron Vulcans Sign Taseff As Coach Aide

AKRON, Ohio (AP)— Carl Taseff, former defensive backfield coach for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League has signed as defensive coach of the Akron Vulcans, new Continental Football League entry.

International League Opens 84th Season

By The Associated Press

Four teams are rated pennant threats and two others possible contenders for the 84th baseball season of the Class AAA International League which gets underway tonight.

The preseason line puts the mantle of favoritism on Rochester's defending regular season champion Red Wings, the Richmond Braves, Columbus Jets and Buffalo Bisons.

Jacksonville's Suns and Toronto's Maple Leafs are given an outside shot. The Toledo Mud Hens and Syracuse Chiefs will suprise almost everybody if they make a first-place run.

No less than seven new managers make their debut tonight. The lone holdover is Earl Weaver, who guided Rochester to the pennant, then saw the Wings beaten in the post-season playoffs.

There has been one switch in major league affiliations between Toledo and Syracuse. The New York Yankees moved from Toledo to Syracuse, the Detroit Tigers from Syracuse to Toledo.

Tonight's opening schedule has Toronto at Toledo, Buffalo at Columbus, Syracuse at Richmond and Rochester at Jacksonville.

Bruising Marathon NHL Victory

Leafs Win, 3-2, To Take Lead In Stanley Cup, 2-1

TORONTO (AP) — "Us old warhorses are better in a longer race," said a happy Marcel Pronovost.

The veteran Toronto defenseman was in the Maple Leafs' dressing room, resting up from his club's bruising 3-2 marathon victory over Montreal Tuesday night in the final Stanley Cup playoff round.

Not until Bob Pulford found an almost open net at 8:26 of the second sudden-death overtime did the Leafs win the game that gave them a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 series for the coveted hockey cup. The fourth game will be played here Thursday.

"I had the whole net to shoot at," said Pulford, noting that Montreal's rookie goalkeeper Rogatien Vachon was on the far side of the goal.

"Pete Stemkowski cleared it out to Jimmy Pappin and I don't know whether he saw me or not, but anyway he knew I should be there and he laid it right on my stick.

"It was the greatest goal of my life."

The clubs ended the regulation three periods tied 2-2. John Ferguson tied it for the Canadiens with 50 seconds left in the second period after Pappin had put the Leafs ahead 2-1 midway through that period.

Jean Beliveau scored in the opening minutes of the game for the Canadiens but Stemkowski tipped in a shot for the Leafs in the same period. After that the long game seemed to affect both clubs.

"We missed a lot of chances," said Ron Ellis of the Leafs. "But you just have to keep shooting and hope they'll go in."

Both Johnny Bower, Toronto's 42-year-old veteran goaltender, and Vachon turned in sterling performances in the net, with Bower picking up 60 saves and Vachon stopping 51 shots.

"We trained all year for this," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach, who believes there is no substitute for practice and hard work. "I thought the club was getting stronger as we went along." Frank Mahovlich, Toronto forward, agreed, saying, "We seemed to pick up momentum as the overtime progressed."

Though the game lasted 1 hour, 28 minutes and 26 seconds, it was far from the Stanley Cup record of 2 hours, 56 minutes and 30 seconds set in 1936 when Detroit outlasted the Montreal Maroons 1-0.

Toronto captain George Armstrong said he was tired, "but you always keep going. You get yourself up for the game and you stay with it until it's over — win or lose."

Vachon, in the Montreal dressing room, said he was not disheartened by the loss.

"Next time, it will be my turn," he said.

Updegraff Now Favorite In North-South Amateur

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — This could be the year that Dr. Ed Updegraff finally wins the Men's North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

The 45-year-old Tucson, Ariz., urologist was the man everyone was keeping an eye on as today's third and fourth round began.

Updegraff came up with the best performance of the tournament Tuesday in trimming capable John Guenther of Reading, Pa., 5 and 3 with a four-under-par effort over the 7,000-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Guenther, who was one under and had eagled the par 4 seventh hole with a 125-yard nine iron shot to temporarily even the match, paid this stunned tribute to his conqueror:

"I never thought you could get beat that badly and play that well."

Updegraff knows exactly how Guenther felt. Last year when Ward Wettlaufer won the tournament, Updegraff fired a two under par round against him in the semifinals, only to lose 1-up.

That was Updegraff's third trip to the semifinals in six visits here. He's a two time Western Amateur champion and twice played on the U.S. Walker Cup team.

Updegraff was tucked away in the bottom quarter of the draw. His third-round opponent was Dr. R. A. Impaglia of Auburn, N.Y.

The Walker Cup delegation, still not near the form it is hoping to display against the British in Sandwich, England, next month, survived the second although none of the four men managed to equal par.

Today Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., whose play thus far has been the best of the Cup quartet, moved against Don Kelly of Auburn, Ind. Teammate Jack Lewis of Florence, S.C., met Bob Lowry of Huntsville, Ala.

Another Cup ace, Bob Murphy of Nichols, Fla., faced Harry Welch, Carolinas Amateur champion from Salisbury, N.C., and Jim Grant, fourth Cup player, from Wethersfield, Conn., played dangerous little Wayne Jackson of Hampston, Va.

Southpaw Glynn Perkins of Virginia Beach, Va., author of Tuesday's major upset, went against Frank Strafaci of Miami, Fla., two-time North and South champion in the 30s.

Denver Man Rolls Perfect Game In ABC

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Les Schissler of Denver fractured a 64-year jinx Tuesday night when he rolled the first perfect game in the team event in the history of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Schissler, bowling with the Ace Mitchell Shur-Hooks of Akron, Ohio, opened with 219 before he rolled the 300. He started his third game with five strikes to run his string to 17, equalling the record for successive strikes set by Billy Knox of Philadelphia in 1913.

Schissler had 234 in the final game for a 753 series. The Shur-Hooks, defending classic team champions, totaled 3,148. They need only 2,908 in the second block Wednesday to overtake the Detroit Strohs who took the classic lead Wednesday with a six game total of 6,056.

Lou Scalia of Miami, moved into the classic all-events lead Tuesday night with a 2,042.

Oak Glen's Golfers Lose

Oak Glen's golf team dropped a 10 to 5 match to Wellsburg Tuesday at the Highland course in Wellsburg.

Bob Glass garnered three points for the Golden Panthers with a 45 while John Finley picked up two with 50. Phil Hudok carded a 52, Carl Watson 53 and Jack Burnquist a 56.

Ron Haggerman, the medalist, shot a 41 for the low score of the match. Chuch Bell shot 46, Skip Cawthorne 47, Bob Bowman 50 and Jay Potter 54.

Oak Glen's next match will be Thursday against Weirton at the Woodview course south of New Cumberland.

The preseason line puts the mantle of favoritism on Rochester's defending regular season champion Red Wings, the Richmond Braves, Columbus Jets and Buffalo Bisons.

Jacksonville's Suns and Toronto's Maple Leafs are given an outside shot. The Toledo Mud Hens and Syracuse Chiefs will suprise almost everybody if they make a first-place run.

No less than seven new managers make their debut tonight. The lone holdover is Earl Waver, who guided Rochester to the pennant, then saw the Wings beaten in the post-season playoffs.

There has been one switch in major league affiliations between Toledo and Syracuse. The New York Yankees moved from Toledo to Syracuse, the Detroit Tigers from Syracuse to Toledo.

Tonight's opening schedule has Toronto at Toledo, Buffalo at Columbus, Syracuse at Richmond and Rochester at Jacksonville.

New Officers Are Named At Quota Club's Meeting

Mrs. Doris Locke, manager of the World Book & Supply House on Market St., was elected president of the Quota Club during the meeting Tuesday night with Mrs. Marie Hays of Smithfield St.

Other officers named are: Miss Selma Ladzinske, first vice president; Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, second vice president; Mrs. Jean Stoddard, recording secretary; Mrs. Ila Shingler, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Evelyn Exley, treasurer.

INSTALLATION will take place during the birthday dinner party May 23 at the Country Club. The social committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Black, will have charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Reinacher, president, conducted business, during which Mrs. Doris Locke was named delegate to the international convention June 28-July 1 at Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. Alternates will be selected from the list of officers.

Copies of the newly-revised bylaws were distributed by Miss Gladys DeBolt, who also handled the tickets for the children's play "The Adventures of Marco Polo" to be presented by the City Federation of Women's Clubs May 13 at Westgate School.

Invitations were read to installation meetings Saturday at Columbus, May 9 at Salem and May 10 at Elyria. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Reinacher.

It was announced that during the recent presentation of awards by the City Federation for local community achievement, eight of the awards were received by Quotarians.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Doris Locke, included a talk on the raising of minks by Don Greenamyer, operator of the Quaker City Fur Farm of Salem.

Mentioning they have about 3,000 born each year in the spring, he explained how they are graded to determine the quality of the mink. He displayed a group of tanned pelts and discussed their classification.

—:—

DURING THE question-and-answer session, he said minks make pets and described the intricate details of their raising.

Mrs. Greenamyer conducted the fashion show of furs, during which coats, capes, stoles, collars and hats were shown in the six natural mink colors of autumn haze, white, ranch mink, lavender, silver blue and blue gray.

Models were Mrs. Marie Hays, Mrs. Edna Jones, Mrs. Jean Stoddard, Mrs. John Hayes and Mrs. Hall.

The buffet table was covered with a pink nylon, embroidered cloth and centered with a large pink azalea plant. Pink tapers in silver candelabra completed the setting. Mrs. Reinacher poured at the silver service.

The next session will be a luncheon May 9 at the Travelers Hotel.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was elected mayor of this town of 1,700 people by a write-in vote in 1965. It's my first public office, and I'm inexperienced in the ways of politicians.

Some federal-state bureaus want to spend $60,000 to restore an unneeded airport runway. I hold that since the other runways can handle the traffic easily this expenditure would be a waste of money. I want to turn the $60,000 back to the public treasury.

I'm told that this would be foolish. The word is, "If we don't take the $60,000 some other town will." I feel this is the same as saying, "Let's rob the bank because its going to be robbed anyway."

Please help me resolve this ethical problem, Ann. Is it right for our town to accept federal taxpayers' money, assuming the facts are precisely as I have stated them? I look to you for guidance. — RICHARD S. MORRISON, MAYOR OF DELTA, UTAH.

Dear Mayor Morrison: If any of my readers run into Diogenes, I hope they'll send him to Delta, Utah. There he will find an honest man.

It is heartening to know, in this age, when larceny (both petty and grand) is defended as "a way of life" that some people are still concerned with ethics.

Unless a committee of five Delta businessmen can produce evidence that the runway is needed — or will be needed because of future growth — turn the money back to the government.

A Key Problem

Dear Ann: Ten years ago my husband and I had a terrible argument, and I locked him out of the house. He went to his mother's and she persuaded him to stay two weeks "to teach me a lesson."

I'm happy to say we worked out our difficulties, and our marriage is now a very good one. Recently my mother-in-law, in a joking manner, reminded us of the incident (in the presence of other members of the family) and said she would do it again because "it's a mother's duty to protect her children at all times."

Our son is being married in a few months, and I would like to know how to handle the situation if his wife locks him out of the house and he tries to come home to me. Should I let him in? — BLOOMFIELD HILLS.

-:-

Dear Bloomfield: No. Tell him to go home and settle his domestic problems with his wife. The mother who tells her children (son or daughter), "If things don't go well, you can always come home," does them no favor.

Countless separated and divorced couples would have pulled up their socks and learned to live together if they had no alternative.

Try To Top This!

Dear Ann: I'm enclosing an Associated Press item. Dateline: Corpus Christi: "A 19-year-old go-go dancer who does a topless act plans to marry between acts — still topless. Her maid of honor also will be topless.

"The justice of the peace who agreed to perform the ceremony said, 'I never question the dress of the people who ask to get married. My job is to get them married.'"

And people say you make up letters! Why would you have to when there are so many dingbats running around loose? — SHOCKED READER.

-:-

Dear Reader: Why are you shocked? Somebody was bound to do it! Don't you know people will do anything? My mail proves it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Information Session Held By Farm Bureau

LISBON — Seventy - six attended a public information meeting sponsored by the Columbiana County Farm Bureau's legislative committee Monday evening at the Mt. Nebo Grange.

Morris Alton, director of public affairs for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, discussed:

House Bill 577, which would remove personal property tax on farming over a five-year period (1968-1972) at the rate of 20 per cent each year; House Bill 544, which would permit any Board of Education to establish a school district income tax of up to one per cent, and State Issue 1 (Ohio Bond Commission) and State Issue 2 (apportionment), which will be decided May 2 by Ohio voters.

Alton was introduced by Galen Greenisen of Salem, chairman. Refreshments were served.

President Eisenhower's Christmas message to the world, broadcast via America's (then) newest satellite, was the first human voice ever to be transmitted from outer space.

Grange Aids Cancer Fund

The project committee authorized a contribution to the Cancer Fund during a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange hall, with Robert Parkins, master, presiding.

Committee reports also were given.

During the lighting of the centennial candle by Miss Carolyn Gardner, in observance of Youth Week, Mrs. Hilda Allison and Mrs. Mary Jane Gardner presented readings. A prayer was offered by Mrs. Edith Johnston, chaplain.

Mrs. Allison, lecturer, was in charge of the program, which included: Group singing of hymns; vocal duet, Miss Paula Shughart and Miss Gardner; vocal selections, Miss Nancy Chaney, who accompanied herself on the guitar, and an accordion solo, John Kryzs.

Miss Masako Oche, Japanese student at Oak Glen High School, offered her impressions of America and displayed Japanese wearing apparel.

Lunch was served 21 members and six guests by Mrs. Mary Louise McConnell, assisted by Mrs. Marie Pugh.

A Mother's Day program will be presented May 9 at the grange.

Most coffee is named for the region in which it is grown or the port from which it is shipped. Thus, Santos coffee, shipped from the port of Santos; Mocha, whose port is Mocha; and Java, a bean grown in Java.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise; Here's a hint that I have found invaluable.

I make handy, catch-all pockets along the side of all my bottom fitted sheets.

I match the material of the sheet and sew the pocket on flat with the opening near the top edge of the mattress, up by the pillow.

This pocket is the perfect spot for an inhaler, pills, tissue, etc., and is especially useful for bedfast patients.

JENNIE HAMM.

-:-

Jennie, you're truly a wizard for thinking of this one! I can hardly wait to try your splendiferous idea.

Many's the time I've groped about for that inhaler only to have it drop and roll under the bed. And that pocket will sure keep the clutter of small articles off the bedside table and in an easy-to-reach spot.

Bless you
HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Having several hat boxes on my closet shelf, I was constantly taking down the wrong box with the wrong hat. So I decided to write the kind and color of each hat on slips of paper and tape them to the boxes.

Now no problem. At a glance I can easily see which hat I want. Sure saves me time when in a hurry.

MRS. VONDERLEHR

DEAR HELOISE: This idea may be helpful to housewives who have trouble keeping track of buttons that come off in the wash, or that they find on the floor.

I fasten them to my pin cushion with a corsage pin. Then I don't have to try and remember where I put them when I do get around to sewing 'em on.

A DAILY READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When canning, I always had problems with the jar lids and rings getting away in my dishwasher.

I find the net bags that onions come in are the perfect answer. I put the lids and rings in the bag and hook it over the little upright rods in the dishwasher.

Never have to worry about them getting loose now.

MILDRED BLANCO.

DEAR HELOISE: Since weeding is easiest after a rain, many of us do it then. But much needed soil is lost and thrown away when weeds are pulled up while the soil is wet.

To save this soil put the weeds aside in a sunny corner and allow them to dry out. Then the soil just drops off by itself.

When you need a little extra fill, this dirt will come in real handy.

EDYTHE RUBISOHN.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: This morning I was preparing my turkey for a party and couldn't find a skewer to fasten the neck skin to the back of the turkey, so what did I use—golf tees!

I used the white ones since the colored ones might stain the bird.

MRS. R. L. UNOUH

-:-

Well, that's one way to get a "birdie".

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If your faucet is dripping and your Daddy is on a trip and can't fix it right away, tie a piece of string about eight inches long around the faucet so that it will hang down and touch the sink. The water will go down the string.

The faucet will still leak, but it won't make that drip - drip - drip noise.

MOLLY LACKEY,
Age 9.

JENNIE HAMM.

-:-

Jennie, you're truly a wizard for thinking of this one! I can hardly wait to try your splendiferous idea.

Many's the time I've groped about for that inhaler only to have it drop and roll under the bed. And that pocket will sure keep the clutter of small articles off the bedside table and in an easy-to-reach spot.

Bless you.
HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Having several hat boxes on my closet shelf, I was constantly taking down the wrong box with the wrong hat. So I decided to write the kind and color of each hat on slips of paper and tape them to the boxes.

Now no problem. At a glance I can easily see which hat I want. Sure saves me time when in a hurry.

MRS. VONDERLEHR.

DEAR HELOISE: This idea may be helpful to housewives who have trouble keeping track of buttons that come off in the wash, or that they find on the floor.

I fasten them to my pin cushion with a corsage pin. Then I don't have to try and remember where I put them when I do get around to sewing 'em on.

A DAILY READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When canning, I always had problems with the jar lids and rings getting away in my dishwasher.

I find the net bags that onions come in are the perfect answer. I put the lids and rings in the bag and hook it over the little upright rods in the dishwasher.

Never have to worry about them getting loose now.

MILDRED BLANCO.

DEAR HELOISE: Since weeding is easiest after a rain, many of us do it then. But much needed soil is lost and thrown away when weeds are pulled up while the soil is wet.

To save this soil put the weeds aside in a sunny corner and allow them to dry out. Then the soil just drops off by itself.

When you need a little extra fill, this dirt will come in real handy.

EDYTHE RUBISOHN.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: This morning I was preparing my turkey for a party and couldn't find a skewer to fasten the neck skin to the back of the turkey, so what did I use—golf tees!

I used the white ones since the colored ones might stain the bird.

MRS. R. L. UNOUH.

-:-

Well, that's one way to get a "birdie".

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If your faucet is dripping and your Daddy is on a trip and can't fix it right away, tie a piece of string about eight inches long around the faucet so that it will hang down and touch the sink. The water will go down the string.

The faucet will still leak, but it won't make that drip - drip - drip noise.

Allied Chemical Approves Sale Of Some Of Assets

NEW YORK — Sale of $48 million of the assets in its building materials business to the Jim Walter Corp. has been approved by directors of the Allied Chemical Corp.

Jim Walter directors also have approved the purchase, but it now is subject to a definitive agreement and to approval by Jim Walter stockholders.

The sale was announced by Chester M. Brown, Allied chairman, during Allied's annual meeting.

Of the $48 million, Allied would receive $20 million in cash, and the balance in a new $40-par preferred stock of Jim Walter, convertible into Jim Walter common on a share-for-share basis.

The sale would include plant equipment, inventories and receivables involved in the manufacture of Barrett roofing products, fiber board, prime siding, gypsum wallboard, building insulation and plastic pipe.

Brown said development of Allied's operations in the chemical and petrochemical areas has "continued to move away from, rather than toward, the building-materials business."

Allied's first-quarter earnings were $18,377,000, or 66 cents a share, down from $20,502,000, or 74 cents a share, a year earlier, Brown said. Sales rose to $294,810,000 from $291,663,000.

Brown attributed the earnings decline to a slowdown in the automotive and housing market, start-up expenses on new plants, higher depreciation charges on new facilities and interest and expenses on long-term debt involved in expansion programs.

John T. Connor, new president of Allied and former U.S. secretary of commerce, said the present national economic slowdown is "more pronounced and more widespread" than had been anticipated. He predicted a period of "sideward slide" would precede an upswing. He said the upswing would probably materialize "somewhat later in the second half of 1967 than had been generally forecast."

Speaking of the outlook for the rest of the year, Brown said a rise in housing starts and the upward trend of car sales and production schedules, currently developing, could be meaningful. He said a "turnaround" in the early part of the second half of 1967 could push Allied's total earnings above the 1966 levels.

Plant At Chester Operated By Allied

The Chester payroll ranges between 65 and 100, they said.

Council Drops Plans For Special Meeting

Unable to muster at least six members who would vote in favor of legislation for city - paid hospital and surgical insurance premiums for dependents of municipal employes, Council called off a special meeting which had been set tentatively for Tuesday night.

Councilman Robert W. Sample, president pro tem, said another attempt will be made to arrange a special meeting before the end of the week. Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger has advised Council the legislation should be passed before the end of the month, as it would make the "fringe benefit" retroactive to April 1.

Council previously passed a similar piece of legislation on three readings. Then it learned that at least six members should have voted for passage on the final reading, as the bill contains an emergency clause. Only four voted affirmatively on the final reading.

In Ohio House Committee

'Major Surgery' Slated For Discrimination Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An administration bill to outlaw racial discrimination in hiring on public construction projects will undergo major surgery Thursday in the House Labor and Industry Committee.

Rep. Keith McNamara R-64 Columbus, Franklin, the bill's sponsor in the committee, disclosed the move Tuesday night but insisted "it will in no way weaken or strengthen the measure." He said the plan, in effect, called for dividing the proposal into two bills.

McNamara described a pending amendment which would lift and place in a separate measure a provision which would cancel contracts signed under so called "hiring hall" agreements between contractors and building trades unions unless unions include both white and Negroes among their journeymen members or have both available for job referral.

McNamara said the new measure will carry an immediately effective emergency clause.

The lawmaker said all that remained of the original bill would be included in a new emergency bill which he promised to introduce later. Provisions in it would require unions to assure contractors or subcontractors in writing that admission to their referral facilities, whether as apprentices or journeymen, is open to persons of any race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Also in the later bill would be a so-called "quota" system which would require, by Dec. 31, 1967, that every 20th employe referred would be Negro and every 15th a Negro by Jan. 1, 1968.

John M. McElroy, the governor's executive assistant, said the companion bill approach was decided on because of delays in major public works projects and because many contracts "currently are under negotiation and others of like nature will be under negotiation within the next 30 to 60 days.

The governor's aide said he had talked with several contractors who favor the legislative strategy change and had heard no opposition to it. But he said he had not heard from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which already has labeled the entire package weak and unacceptable.

Eastman Kodak Co.

Violence Threat Marks Meeting Of Stockholders

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (AP) — It began with a mass demonstration and ended with a threat of racial violence.

In between, amid cries of "white arrogance" and "black power," the Eastman Kodak Co. conducted its annual stockholders meeting Tuesday.

The usual decorum of the meeting was upset when a militant Negro organization from Rochester, N.Y. — FIGHT — carried its cause to this rural county seat in central New Jersey. FIGHT — freedom, integration, God, honor, today — disputed the company's hiring policy.

After the meeting Rev. F.D.R. Florence, 32, president of FIGHT, announced that a mass demonstration would be held in Rochester July 24, the anniversary of the racial riots that erupted there in 1964.

During the meeting, about 40 supporters of FIGHT stalked out, asserting afterward that Kodak had "declared racial war upon the black community of the nation."

FIGHT contended that the corporation had the moral obligation to aid the deprived members of the community. Kodak argued it was doing that.

The specific controversy stemmed from an agreement signed with FIGHT Dec. 20 by a Kodak assistant vice president. Under the accord, Kodak, one of the nation's largest corporations with 100,000 employes, agreed to hire and train 600 unskilled and unemployed Negroes in Rochester, the company's home base. Two days later, Kodak nullified the agreement, claiming it was unauthorized.

The legal counsel of Kodak explained at the shareholders' meeting Tuesday "the contract (with FIGHT) would have been discriminatory, not against Negroes, but against non-Negroes." The explanation was greeted with a loud round of applause by the vast majority of about 1,000 stockholders.

Before the meeting, about 500 FIGHT supporters staged a demonstration in the center of Flemington, carrying signs such as "Kodak snaps the shutter on the Negro." They then marched a mile, with a state police escort, to the Hunterdon Central High School auditorium where the stockholders met.

About 40 FIGHT members were admitted to the meeting but immediately stalked out after giving the board of directors a two-hour ultimatum to reconsider its decision on the agreement.

During their absence, various church officials and lay supporters of FIGHT, all Kodak shareholders, questioned directors on company hiring policy.

William S. Vaughn, chairman, explained that the company had 1,400 Negro workers in Rochester and conducts recruitment drives at Negro colleges. He said the company's apprenticeship training program had "disappointing" results in recruiting Negroes.

Shortly before the meeting ended, the FIGHT members, led by Florence, returned. Florence asked Vaughn for his decision, "just a yes or no if you're going to honor the agreement."

"No," Vaughn replied, and the FIGHT members walked out again.

Afterward, at a news conference on the school lawn, Florence declared: "Kodak's reneging on the agreement symbolizes to us that powerful white corporations can not be trusted by poor blacks across the nation."

He said this means "racial war." He upped his job demand from 600 to 2,000.

Stockholders received encouraging news during the meeting — quarterly net earnings were $60.7 million or 75 cents per share compared with net earnings of $60.3 million or 74 cents per share for the first quarter of last year. A quarterly dividend of 40 cents also was declared.

'Grand Old Man' Of Aviation Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Benny Foulois, the Grand Old Man of military aviation, is dead.

Maj. Gen. Benjamin Delahauf Foulois, 87 — who retired 32 years ago from a military career lasting 37 years — was the first person to fly as an observer on a cross-country airplane flight back in 1909, and was the nation's senior military pilot.

Foulois was the first military man to teach himself to fly. In 1910 he became the nation's first military test pilot. He was the only person in that category to fly "Old Number One," the first plane to meet U.S. military requirements.

Those standards: The plane must be able to carry a pilot and a passenger at an average of 40 miles an hour over a 10-mile course, must have enough fuel to fly 125 miles, and must be able to stay aloft an hour.

Orville and Wilbur Wright, the first men to achieve powered flight in 1903, built the plane and won the Army Signal Corps contract in 1908. The observer aboard, on the final qualifying flight, was Foulois — Orville Wright was the pilot.

Foulois died at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., Hospital Tuesday after being in a coma for several months.

Until his last illness he had remained active, making speeches and military base tours.

Funeral services are to be held at Andrews Thursday at 11 a.m.

New Officers Are Selected

Mrs. Joseph Nemith was elected president for the next term when the Oak Glen Parent - Teacher Association met Tuesday in the Little Theater.

Other officers include Mrs. Wilbur Staley, first vice president; Mrs. Eldon Gray, second vice president; Sara Thomas, secretary, and Mrs. Betty Ronan, treasurer.

Members voted to award Mrs. Charles Taylor of Chester a life membership.

Walter Jordan of the Chester Lions Club screened the film "Glaucoma — Sneak Thief of Sight."

Business Booms As Expo 67 Gets Set For Opening

MONTREAL (AP)—With its formal opening only a day away, Expo 67 already is teeming with newsmen and hundreds of others who have managed to get in for an advance look.

The Expo Express, the fair's free elevated railway, is doing a rushing business.

Some restaurants are open. Most of the concessions and La Ronde, the amusement area, will open Thursday. Several of the amusement rides are giving visitors previews.

Although Friday is opening day for the public, some 50,000 are expected to be admitted after the formal ceremonies Thursday afternoon. Concessionaires have been alerted to be ready for the Thursday crowd.

The red carpet has been laid on the platform at the Place des Nations where Gov. Gen. Roland Michener, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and other dignitaries will sit during the ceremonies.

Around the Expo grounds flags and gaily colored banners are flying and fountains are spraying water. Television networks are bringing in their big name commentators to take part in live telecasts of the ceremony.

Officials are jubilant about the burst of speed that has made it possible for all major pavilions to be ready on time. Extensive cleanup work remains but on the whole the fair looks ready.

The last of the main pavilions completed their press previews Tuesday. Some still had last minute work to finish setting up their displays, but newsmen were able to get a clear picture of what visitors will see.

Some who had seen other fairs, including the New York World's Fair of 1964-65, said Expo was as good as any ever held.

Hero's Funeral In Red Square

Mourning Russians File Past Urn Of Cosmonaut

MOSCOW (AP) — Mourning Russians filed past the urn containing the ashes of cosmonaut Col. Vladimir M. Komarov today prior to a hero's funeral in Red Square.

Komarov's ashes were to be buried in the Kremlin Wall — the Soviet Pantheon — during a ceremony attended by Soviet leaders and Komarov's fellow cosmonauts.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said plans to send American astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Frank Borman to the funeral were abandoned because of Soviet coolness to the idea. He said NASA was told the funeral was an internal Soviet affair.

Moscow's newspapers published messages of condolence from leaders in the Soviet Union and other countries as reports circulated that Sovuz 1, the new spaceship in which Komarov, 40, crashed Monday, had given him trouble almost from the time it was launched Sunday.

One report of the flight said the trouble forced cancellation of plans for a crew to ride a second satellite into space Monday for a linkup with Sovuz 1 and an exchange of cosmonauts between the craft. Another was that only a test of the new Soyuz had been planned and that problems arose as the capsule was 50 miles above the earth and preparing to land.

The official account said Komarov completed all tests successfully and crashed Monday after the craft's parachute lines became tangled as he was descending about four miles above the earth.

"I am calm. Everything is okay," Komarov said shortly before the crash, the military paper Red Star reported today.

Commenting on this report, the Soviet news agency Tass said: "Yes, he had everything okay until before the landing, near to the earth, when there developed trouble which he could not possibly foresee and which proved fatal."

But some official statements seemed to support speculation about difficulties other than parachute lines. A decree awarding Komarov posthumously the nation's highest honor, Hero of the Soviet Union, seemed to refer to the flight in general when it spoke of his courage.

An official statement that the cosmonaut was offered a choice rather than was ordered down was taken as a hint of problems during the flight.

In Ohio House Committee

'Major Surgery' Slated For Discrimination Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An administration bill to outlaw racial discrimination in hiring on public construction projects will undergo major surgery Thursday in the House Labor and Industry Committee.

Rep. Keith McNamara R-64 Columbus, Franklin, the bill's sponsor in the committee, disclosed the move Tuesday night but insisted "it will in no way weaken or strengthen the measure." He said the plan, in effect, called for dividing the proposal into two bills.

McNamara described a pending amendment which would lift and place in a separate measure a provision which would cancel contracts signed under so called "hiring hall" agreements between contractors and building trades unions unless unions include both white and Negroes among their journeymen members or have both available for job referral.

McNamara said the new measure will carry an immediately effective emergency clause.

The lawmaker said all that remained of the original bill would be included in a new emergency bill which he promised to introduce later. Provisions in it would require unions to assure contractors or subcontractors in writing that admission to their referral facilities, whether as apprentices or journeymen, is open to persons of any race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Also in the later bill would be a so-called "quota" system which would require, by Dec. 31, 1967, that every 20th employe referred would be Negro and every 15th a Negro by Jan. 1, 1968.

John M. McElroy, the governor's executive assistant, said the companion bill approach was decided on because of delays in major public works projects and because many contracts "currently are under negotiation and others of like nature will be under negotiation within the next 30 to 60 days.

The governor's aide said he had talked with several contractors who favor the legislative strategy change and had heard no opposition to it. But he said he had not heard from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which already has labeled the entire package weak and unacceptable.

Eastman Kodak Co.

Violence Threat Marks Meeting Of Stockholders

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (AP) — It began with a mass demonstration and ended with a threat of racial violence.

In between, amid cries of "white arrogance" and "black power," the Eastman Kodak Co. conducted its annual stockholders meeting Tuesday.

The usual decorum of the meeting was upset when a militant Negro organization from Rochester, N.Y. — FIGHT — carried its cause to this rural county seat in central New Jersey. FIGHT — freedom, integration, God, honor, today — disputed the company's hiring policy.

After the meeting Rev. F.D.R. Florence, 32, president of FIGHT, announced that a mass demonstration would be held in Rochester July 24, the anniversary of the racial riots that erupted there in 1964.

During the meeting, about 40 supporters of FIGHT stalked out, asserting afterward that Kodak had "declared racial war upon the black community of the nation."

FIGHT contended that the corporation had the moral obligation to aid the deprived members of the community. Kodak argued it was doing that.

The specific controversy stemmed from an agreement signed with FIGHT Dec. 20 by a Kodak assistant vice president. Under the accord, Kodak, one of the nation's largest corporations with 100,000 employes, agreed to hire and train 600 unskilled and unemployed Negroes in Rochester, the company's home base. Two days later, Kodak nullified the agreement, claiming it was unauthorized.

The legal counsel of Kodak explained at the shareholders' meeting Tuesday "the contract (with FIGHT) would have been discriminatory, not against Negroes, but against non-Negroes." The explanation was greeted with a loud round of applause by the vast majority of about 1,000 stockholders.

Before the meeting, about 500 FIGHT supporters staged a demonstration in the center of Flemington, carrying signs such as "Kodak snaps the shutter on the Negro." They then marched a mile, with a state police escort, to the Hunterdon Central High School auditorium where the stockholders met.

About 40 FIGHT members were admitted to the meeting but immediately stalked out after giving the board of directors a two-hour ultimatum to reconsider its decision on the agreement.

During their absence, various church officials and lay supporters of FIGHT, all Kodak shareholders, questioned directors on company hiring policy.

William S. Vaughn, chairman, explained that the company had 1,400 Negro workers in Rochester and conducts recruitment drives at Negro colleges. He said the company's apprenticeship training program had "disappointing" results in recruiting Negroes.

Shortly before the meeting ended, the FIGHT members, led by Florence, returned. Florence asked Vaughn for his decision, "just a yes or no if you're going to honor the agreement."

"No," Vaughn replied, and the FIGHT members walked out again.

Afterward, at a news conference on the school lawn, Florence declared: "Kodak's reneging on the agreement symbolizes to us that powerful white corporations can not be trusted by poor blacks across the nation."

He said this means "racial war." He upped his job demand from 600 to 2,000.

Stockholders received encouraging news during the meeting — quarterly net earnings were $60.7 million or 75 cents per share compared with net earnings of $60.3 million or 74 cents per share for the first quarter of last year. A quarterly dividend of 40 cents also was declared.

'Grand Old Man' Of Aviation Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Benny Foulois, the Grand Old Man of military aviation, is dead.

Maj. Gen. Benjamin Delahauf Foulois, 87 — who retired 32 years ago from a military career lasting 37 years — was the first person to fly as an observer on a cross-country airplane flight back in 1909, and was the nation's senior military pilot.

Foulois was the first military man to teach himself to fly. In 1910 he became the nation's first military test pilot. He was the only person in that category to fly "Old Number One," the first plane to meet U.S. military requirements.

Those standards: The plane must be able to carry a pilot and a passenger at an average of 40 miles an hour over a 10-mile course, must have enough fuel to fly 125 miles, and must be able to stay aloft an hour.

Orville and Wilbur Wright, the first men to achieve powered flight in 1903, built the plane and won the Army Signal Corps contract in 1908. The observer aboard, on the final qualifying flight, was Foulois — Orville Wright was the pilot.

Foulois died at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., Hospital Tuesday after being in a coma for several months.

Until his last illness he had remained active, making speeches and military base tours.

Funeral services are to be held at Andrews Thursday at 11 a.m.

New Officers Are Selected

Mrs. Joseph Nemith was elected president for the next term when the Oak Glen Parent - Teacher Association met Tuesday in the Little Theater.

Other officers include Mrs. Wilbur Staley, first vice president; Mrs. Eldon Gray, second vice president; Sara Thomas, secretary, and Mrs. Betty Ronan, treasurer.

Members voted to award Mrs. Charles Taylor of Chester a life membership.

Walter Jordan of the Chester Lions Club screened the film "Glaucoma — Sneak Thief of Sight."

Business Booms As Expo 67 Gets Set For Opening

MONTREAL (AP)—With its formal opening only a day away, Expo 67 already is teeming with newsmen and hundreds of others who have managed to get in for an advance look.

The Expo Express, the fair's free elevated railway, is doing a rushing business.

Some restaurants are open. Most of the concessions and La Ronde, the amusement area, will open Thursday. Several of the amusement rides are giving visitors previews.

Although Friday is opening day for the public, some 50,000 are expected to be admitted after the formal ceremonies Thursday afternoon. Concessionaires have been alerted to be ready for the Thursday crowd.

The red carpet has been laid on the platform at the Place des Nations where Gov. Gen. Roland Michener, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and other dignitaries will sit during the ceremonies.

Around the Expo grounds flags and gaily colored banners are flying and fountains are spraying water. Television networks are bringing in their big name commentators to take part in live telecasts of the ceremony.

Officials are jubilant about the burst of speed that has made it possible for all major pavilions to be ready on time. Extensive cleanup work remains but on the whole the fair looks ready.

The last of the main pavilions completed their press previews Tuesday. Some still had last minute work to finish setting up their displays, but newsmen were able to get a clear picture of what visitors will see.

Some who had seen other fairs, including the New York World's Fair of 1964-65, said Expo was as good as any ever held.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Downs Still Top 'Second Banana'

Hugh Malcolm Downs was the best "second banana" a TV talk host ever had, and many people miss him in that role. Downs did more than just laugh at Jack Parr's jokes and deliver commercials, when the two of them were teamed on the "Tonight" show.

Hal Humphrey

Although loyal to Paar, he never was a yes man. Frequently Downs irritated Paar by allowing as how NBC had its side, too, when Paar and the network had their differences.

Downs' insatiable curiosity also made him an interesting contributor to the show itself.

TAKE AWAY Ed McMahon's horse laugh each time he's the butt of Johnny Carson's gibes or Arthur Treacher's phony umbrage over a Merv Griffinism and they are nothing. But Downs, despite a sometimes rather unctuous eager-beaver attitudes, is a personality in his own right, rather than an animated prop.

Since taking over as host of NBC's "Today" show nearly five years ago, Downs has been doing his own interviewing, with varying degrees of success, which he is aware of himself.

"I may be inhibited by my lack of journalistic background," said Downs, during a brief stopover on his way to the current week of "Today" shows emanating from San Diego.

"I guess I should learn not to feel embarrassed about what I might want to ask a person. At the same time I want the guest to feel at ease. Otherwise, I believe I defeat myself."

VICE PRESIDENT Hubert Humphrey rather surprised Downs when the former appeared on "Today" after his recent hectic tour of European capitals and said quite blandly he had not been criticized for our stand in Vietnam.

Later, Secretary of State Dean Rusk was interviewed in Washington for "Today" by NBC's Robert Goralski and told the latter that the peace marches in New York and San Francisco were "insignificant" and not what determine policy in this country.

"I found this somewhat disturbing and thought there was a whiff of policy being handled by the un-elected rather than Congress and through other duly elected representatives of the people. I hope we're still living in a dmocracy," Downs added.

IT'S BEEN SAID that half of official Washington has been on the "Today" show at one time or another and that all of it watches the show, so our politicos naturally find it a ready sounding board for themselves and ideas.

Perhaps it's time for Downs to get over those inhibitions over not being a journalist and begin nailing a few of those "un-electeds" with questions the viewing audience might like to hear answared.

There is no doubt in Downs' book that most of our political leaders (and he's hosted a good many of them on "Today") are very image conscious when on TV. He's even been asked by some of them before air time to ask certain questions for which they obviously have well - rehearsed answers.

HE DID NOT CARE to reveal who made such requests, but did say that NOT among that type were the Kennedys, Hubert Humphrey, Richard Nixon and Dwight Eisenhower, all of whom seemed confident of their ability to field any question and look the better for it because of the spontaneity.

Downs is one of those who does not share my and many others' fear that Madison Avenue techniques are being employed to prefabricate candidates and sell them as handsome, personable Big Brother or Father images to an unwary TV-viewing public.

He believes the TV camera "exposes the phony," and that anyone taking a spurious approach is bound to be found out by the viewers. He cites the late Sen. Joe McCarthy as his prize example of this.

"WHEN I FIRST started in this business, I grew a mustache to look older, but later when I saw pictures of myself and an old TV 'kinnie' or two, I realized the mustache only made me look like a young man trying to look older.

"Mustaches don't make you look trustworthy. Haven't you noticed that no one selling anything on TV has a mustache?" asked Downs.

Thomas Dewey could have used that information 20 years ago.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Downs Still Top 'Second Banana'

Hugh Malcolm Downs was the best "second banana" a TV talk host ever had, and many people miss him in that role. Downs did more than just laugh at Jack Parr's jokes and deliver commercials, when the two of them were teamed on the "Tonight" show.

Hal Humphrey

Although loyal to Paar, he never was a yes man. Frequently Downs irritated Paar by allowing as how NBC had its side, too, when Paar and the network had their differences.

Downs' insatiable curiosity also made him an interesting contributor to the show itself.

TAKE AWAY Ed McMahon's horse laugh each time he's the butt of Johnny Carson's gibes or Arthur Treacher's phony umbrage over a Merv Griffinism and they are nothing. But Downs, despite a sometimes rather unctuous eager-beaver attitudes, is a personality in his own right, rather than an animated prop.

Since taking over as host of NBC's "Today" show nearly five years ago, Downs has been doing his own interviewing, with varying degrees of success, which he is aware of himself.

"I may be inhibited by my lack of journalistic background," said Downs, during a brief stopover on his way to the current week of "Today" shows emanating from San Diego.

"I guess I should learn not to feel embarrassed about what I might want to ask a person. At the same time I want the guest to feel at ease. Otherwise, I believe I defeat myself."

VICE PRESIDENT Hubert Humphrey rather surprised Downs when the former appeared on "Today" after his recent hectic tour of European capitals and said quite blandly he had not been criticized for our stand in Vietnam.

Later, Secretary of State Dean Rusk was interviewed in Washington for "Today" by NBC's Robert Goralski and told the latter that the peace marches in New York and San Francisco were "insignificant" and not what determine policy in this country.

"I found this somewhat disturbing and thought there was a whiff of policy being handled by the un-elected rather than Congress and through other duly elected representatives of the people. I hope we're still living in a dmocracy," Downs added.

IT'S BEEN SAID that half of official Washington has been on the "Today" show at one time or another and that all of it watches the show, so our politicos naturally find it a ready sounding board for themselves and ideas.

Perhaps it's time for Downs to get over those inhibitions over not being a journalist and begin nailing a few of those "un-elecleds" with questions the viewing audience might like to hear answared.

There is no doubt in Downs book that most of our political leaders (and he's hosted a good many of them on "Today") are very image conscious when on TV. He's even been asked by some of them before air time to ask certain questions for which they obviously have well rehearsed answers.

HE DID NOT CARE to reveal who made such requests, but did say that NOT among that type were the Kennedys, Hubert Humphrey, Richard Nixon and Dwight Eisenhower, all of whom seemed confident of their ability to field any question and look the better for it because of the spontaneity.

Downs is one of those who does not share my and many others' fear that Madison Avenue techniques are being employed to prefabricate candidates and sell them as handsome, personable Big Brother or Father images to an unwary TV-viewing public.

He believes the TV camera "exposes the phony," and that anyone taking a spurious approach is bound to be found out by the viewers. He cites the late Sen. Joe McCarthy as his prize example of this.

"WHEN I FIRST started in this business, I grew a mustache to look older, but later when I saw pictures of myself and an old TV 'kinnie' or two, I realized the mustache only made me look like a young man trying to look older.

"Mustaches don't make you look trustworthy. Haven't you noticed that no one selling anything on TV has a mustache?" asked Downs.

Thomas Dewey could have used that information 20 years ago.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — When Maurine Morden wheels onto the open road, cars stop and people stare.

The 67-year-old grandmother rides a tricycle.

"It's the only adult tricycle in Eaton Rapids," Mrs. Morden said proudly, adding, "It's a good way to get acquainted."

"Riding a bike like this is like walking an unusual breed of dog," she explained. "People stop and stare, then ask me where I got it."

Mrs. Morden drives a car too — but said she prefers the three-wheeler for short jaunts around town.

LONDON (AP) — The Richard Burtons have made a clean sweep of top honors in the 20th annual British Film Academy awards.

Burton's wife, Elizabeth Taylor, 35, won the best British actress award for her performance in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

He took honors as the best British actor for his performances in the same film and also in "The Spy Who Came in from the Cold."

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" was voted best film from any source and "The Spy Who Came in from the Cold" was voted the best British film.

Both the Burtons attended the award ceremonies at London's Grosvenor House hotel Tuesday night.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Mary Weismiller is retiring this month as a nurse after working for 43 years in the delivery room of Good Samaritan Hospital and 200 staff members gave her a party.

A hospital spokesman estimated she had helped with more than 139,000 births at the large hospital.

LONDON (AP) — Samuel Pepys, dead for 265 years, has received a letter from the taxman.

The famous diarist who wrote of the 1666 fire of London and the 1665 plague was also known as "father of the Civil Service."

Tuesday a letter for Pepys was received by his publisher, G. Bell and Sons.

It was an inquiry from the Civil Service's Tax Department asking for Pepys' tax district, whether he got a state pension and if he had declared his current income.

Said a spokesman for the publishers: "We have been publishers of Pepys' Diary for 70 or 80 years and there is a certain amount of work going on on a new edition.

"This may have brought the name Ppeys to the tax sleuths. We shall return the form saying that Mr. Pepys is no longer employed by ourselves."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Walter Voelker says he is going to hitch a ride to Vietnam to visit his serviceman son.

A retired Army captain, Voelker, 42, plans to catch rides aboard military planes.

"Because of my 21 years in the service," the former bomb disposal expert explained Tuesday, "I am entitled to fly on military planes. But I'm the last one to get on."

His son, Walter Jr., is a gunner on a helicopter stationed at Than Son Nhut near Saigon. If he can get as far as Saigon, Voelker said, "I'll walk the last 12 miles if I have to."

Voelker, now an appliance salesman, said he first mentioned the idea to his wife as a joke and she approved it. "If it hadn't been for her attitude I would not have pursued it."

69 Firms Given Awards On Good Safety Records

COLUMBIANA — Sixty - nine firms received awards for outstanding safety records Tuesday night during the 17th annual Columbiana County Industrial Safety Banquet co - sponsored by the Division of Safety and Hygiene of the Ohio Industrial Commission, the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce and county industries and commercial organizations.

The awards were presented following a dinner meeting in South Side High School cafeteria. A capacity crowd also heard an address by Ray Monsalvage, who discussed pointers on living and keeping well while earning a living.

The awards were presented by A. B. Maines, representative of the Industrial Commission. In a brief talk, Maines noted that six times as much lost time results from off-job accidents as on-job mishaps.

He pointed out that an accident does not necessarily have to happen to the worker himself in order to take him off his job and that a great deal of lost time is due to injuries suffered by other members of a breadwinners' family.

As an example he cited the automobile accident rate and expressed appreciation of the work being done by the State Highway Patrol in behalf of highway safety.

The invocation was given by Fr. Breen Malone of St. Judes Parish, Columbiana, and the benediction by the Rev. J. Paul Graham of the First United Presbyterian Church of Salem.

Court Plans Trial Friday For Cited Woman Driver

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today scheduled a hearing Friday at 9 a. m. for Jane Gombeski of Ambridge, cited by East Liverpool police Tuesday night on a charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated.

The woman today requested a continuance to enable her to secure counsel. The judge complied, setting her appearance bond at $250. No plea was entered.

Police said the woman was taken into custody at 5th and Market Sts. at 10:35 p. m. by Patrolmen James Buckley and David Huffman.

Two other motorists were fined in hearings today, another forfeited and a fourth received a continuance.

Taublee Gayheart of Safety Harbor, Fla., was fined $5 and costs on a charge of making an illegal right turn at Washington and E. 5th Sts. and given a suspended $25 fine on a charge of possessing an open container of alcoholic beverage. He pleaded guilty to both counts.

Gayheart was cited Tuesday at 3:20 p. m. on E. 5th St. by Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney. The officer testified he first halted the motorist after observing the illegal turn. Then, he said, he discovered that Gayheart was carrying an open quart bottle of beer in the front seat of the auto.

Gayheart did not appear intoxicated, he added. Queried by the judge, the defendant denied he had been drinking while driving. He was ordered to pay the costs on the open container charge.

Harry M. Cline, 69, of Lisbon St. was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of making an improper left turn.

Cline was cited by the State Highway Patrol Sunday at 5 p. m. after a two - way traffic mishap at the junction of the Y. & O. Rd. and Cannons Mills Rd. in Glenmoor. The patrol alleged a collision resulted when Cline attempted a left turn.

Leo Wysocki of Industry R.D. 2 forfeited two appearance bonds totaling $75.

Wysocki was cited Tuesday at 11:16 a. m. on Harvey Ave. on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St. and operating an auto without a driver's license. He forfeited $17.50 on the light-crashing charge and $57.50 on the license charge.

The court set a hearing Monday for Jerry Lee Deitch, 32, of Pughtown, cited by the patrol Saturday at 5:45 p. m. on a charge he crashed a stop sign at the junction of Routes 30 and 170.

Hancock Fines Lisbon Youth, 20, In Beer Drinking

NEW CUMBERLAND — A 20-year-old Lisbon youth was fined $200 and costs Tuesday by Squire John D. Herron after his arrest Monday night for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

John F. Brown was arrested on Route 30, north of Chester, late Monday in his parked auto with four teen-agers. All were drinking beer at the time, Hancock County deputies said.

The minors, a 15-and 13-year-old girl, a 16-year-old boy and a 15-year-old boy, were held overnight in the Hancock jail pending investigation by juvenile authorities. The four were released Tuesday in the custody of their parents.

Lt. Mike Kource and Deputy John Ross were the arresting officers. Chief Deputy Arnie Durham said this morning an investigation is continuing in an effort to learn who sold Brown the beer.

Hawaii once minted its own coins. Its first coins were struck in 1847, the last in 1883.

Strike By Teamsters Called Unauthorized

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — More than 200 Akron Teamsters were off their jobs today in what was called an unauthorized strike.

Some 200 Teamsters were off their jobs at Consolidated Freight, and about a dozen were off their jobs at Lyons Transportation Lines.

E. T. Denholm, terminal manager of Consolidated at West Richfield, said trucks were going in but not out. Lyons spokesman, Jim Goff, said operations were normal.

'Countess' Dies At 92

MADRID (AP) — Lillie Fernandez Azabel, 92, known as the "Countess from Iowa" from the title of her autobiography, died Tuesday. A native of Hamburg, Iowa, she married a German baron and later Count Nostitz of Russia. Although she lived in luxury for years on the proceeds of jewelry she and her second husband smuggled out of the Soviet Union, friends said she died in poverty.

'Important, Difficult Decision'

Colorado Governor Signs Bill Easing Abortion Law

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Gov. John A. Love said his decision to sign a bill liberalizing Colorado's abortion laws was "one of the more important and difficult decisions of my experience in office."

The governor said before signing the bill Tuesday his mail ran to about 5,000 letters and telegrams — "about 2,600 against and about 2,400 for the bill."

Love said "the bill itself is completely permissive, not requiring any hospital, doctor, nurse, potential mother or any other person to act in any way to terminate a pregnancy at any time."

Leonard Carlin, president of the Catholic Lawyers Guild of Denver which opposed the bill, said he was disapponted, but not surprised.

"My impression," Carlin said, "was that he (Love) was one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the bill."

Dr. Dana McLean Greeley, Unitarian Church leader, telegraphed Love, "We believe this bill, setting forth certain conditions for the interruption of pregnancy will be a landmark in American legislation."

Dr. Greeley is president of Unitarian Universalist Association, the national organization of the Unitarian Church, which is beginning its National Assembly in Denver Saturday. Colorado's seven Unitarian ministers also signed.

Love said the new law requires that abortions be performed only in accredited hospitals and that each operation must have the unanimous consent of a special three-man board of physicians.

"I am certain that the operation provided for will occur only in hospitals, subject to a severe test of accreditation, which will successfully prevent anything approaching abortion clinics," Love said.

"The fear that some have that Colorado will become an 'abortion Mecca' if this bill becomes law does not seem to me well founded."

Love said "the use or abuse of the bill will continue to be of great interest and concern to me. If we find defects or omissions or if abuses do, indeed, occur, we shall be the first to seek changes."

He said, "I believe that the bill as written contains safeguards and is designed to do something about areas of suffering and abuse which have been of concern to a great many people for a great period of time."

"I have confidence that our licensed physicians, acting as a three-man board, and with the protection of the law, will act responsibly to prevent possible abuses," the governor said.

Colorado law previously allowed abortions only in cases presenting a severe threat to the physical health of the mother or in pregnancies resulting from forcible rape.

The new law permits the ending of pregnancies presenting a severe threat to the health — mental or physical — of the mother. It allows the termination of pregnancies resulting from incest or from any of the classifications of rape — including statutory rape.

Abortions also will be permitted under the new law in pregnancies likely to result in a deformed or retarded child.

Driving Rights Are Suspended

LISBON — Four youths lost the right to drive for varying periods following juvenile traffic hearings Tuesday in the Courthouse here.

Suspension of license was ordered as indicated for William M. Stone, 16, of Lisbon R. D. 3, using license plates belonging to another vehicle, 60 days; Thomas P. Bartholomew, 17, of 320 Benton Rd., Salem, stop sign violation, 30 days; Arthur D. Gingher, 17, East Palestine, speeding, 15 days, and Thomas Ward, 17, Lisbon R. D. 3, failure to dim headlights for oncoming traffic, 10 days.

Glenn Shaughnessy, 16, Leetonia R. D. 1, was fined $25 for speeding.

Sewing Machine Clinic Set Here

A sewing machine clinic for women of the East Liverpool area will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the Salvation Army building at 412 Walnut St.

The county Cooperative Extension Service of Ohio State University is sponsor.

In 1907 when Paul Paich was 14 years old he went to work at the Midland plant. He was just getting started. So was the plant. Coke ovens and a blast furnace had been lighted the year before, and iron was being produced. Then in 1911, Crucible bought the facility and started expanding. Eight open hearth furnaces were built and Midland was in the steel business. In the more than 50 intervening years both Paich and Crucible have grown and prospered. Paich married, raised four children and now has eight grandchildren. A locomotive engineer in Midland's Transportation department, his energy and enthusiasm belie his 73 years. The small plant where he started now covers some 600 acres and employs over 6,000 people. Paich's success and Crucible's is good evidence of working together for progress.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Don't make your kids turn off the radio when they're studying. It may improve their grades.

Two sixth graders, Patrick Spellman and Robert Dinius, asked six teachers to give their classes a list of 20 fairly difficult spelling words.

Students studied the words 15 minutes in complete silence in three classrooms, and made 305 mistakes.

In the other three classes, where radios, record players and television sets were going full blast, the students made only 282 errors.

The 11-year-old researchers reported their findings at a science fair at the University of Arizona.

'A Case For Noise' Presented By Pupils

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Don't make your kids turn off the radio when they're studying. It may improve their grades.

Two sixth graders, Patrick Spellman and Robert Dinius, asked six teachers to give their classes a list of 20 fairly difficult spelling words.

Students studied the words 15 minutes in complete silence in three classrooms, and made 305 mistakes.

In the other three classes, where radios, record players and television sets were going full blast, the students made only 282 errors.

The 11-year-old researchers reported their findings at a science fair at the University of Arizona.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATAMARANS

QUESTION: Why do people build catarmaran boats?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The ordinary sailing or motor boat has only one hull. Catarmarans are boats having two hulls, just alike. They are usually long and narrow and fastened together as shown in cross section (2). Modern catarmarans have descended from small craft sailed in Eastern and Pacific Ocean areas. In (1) we see a narrow South Seas canoe, with an outrigger, a long log held away from the hull by two supports. Sailors may climb out on this log to prevent the boat from heeling (tipping). If it heels the other way, the log will rest on the water and prevent the boat from going over too far. The twin hulls of catarmarans work in much the same way, and they are built and used today because they are so stable. In (3), you can see that the wind is coming from the right, but the air-filled hull on the left is preventing the boat from heeling down on that side. The catarmarns idea is also being used in the making of modern motor boat hulls. Here, the stability of the catarmarans is particularly useful, because modern motor craft travel at such a high speed.

Test And Try Arm Exercises

It takes a special exercise action to tone the triceps muscles that flank the backs of the upper arms. Only when it is necessary to use force in a thrust or when the upper arm is more horizontal than perpendicular, is it necessary to forcibly contract the triceps.

Ida Jean Kain

To ascertain which muscles are being used, feel the muscle in action. Thrust out vigorously with your right arm, and feel with the left fingers on the back - under side of the arm. On the forward thrust the triceps go into action. When you bend the elbow and draw arm back, the biceps on the front of the arm are used. The clue therefore is to do the thrusting from an arms extended position, making short, sharp jabs. That action tones triceps.

—:—

A READER complained that she has developed "muscles like a wrestler" on the top of her upper arm, and asks if it is the arm exercise, or the isometric chin toner in which she used her arm to exert pressure.

It's the chin toner, as a test will reveal. Place chin in palm of right hand, and push with chin as you exert equal pressure with hand. With left hand feel what happens to the muscles on the top of the arm. In this held contraction it's the biceps, not the triceps, that are exerted.

Test this exercise action: Hold right arm out sidewards at shoulder level, back of hand facing forward. Bend hand sharply at wrist, with palm and fingers pointing back. Move arm forward slowly against resistance, wrist leading.

As you do this, feel with fingers of left hand to determine which muscles are taking the action. It's the triceps. Practice the exercise using both arms together, always leading with backs of wrists.

—:—

WHEN ARMS are down at your sides, get the knack of holding the soft part of the elbow toward the body, and the backs of your hands forward. Just this slight twist on the triceps has a toning effect.

Swimming is the perfect arm firmer. However, not everyone swims. Another exercise I favor is to bounce a ball. Get a large ball from a sporting goods store, one with lively bounce.

Holding arms out in front of body, shoulder level, bounce, bounce, bounce, 100 times a minute. Do this twice daily, using both hands. Be sure to stand erect so that the bounce action will be from chest level. Take the "feel" test on that exercise, too.

Happened At Last; Africa Imports Lions

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — It's happened at last. South Africa, known for centuries as the lion country, now has to import the big cats.

They are coming from such "lionless" places as Europe and Britain.

"The 25 lions we are importing are undoubtedly the offspring of lions which had originally been exported from South Africa," a spokesman for the importing concern said here.

"We can in fact buy lions locally but this will result in a reduction of the lion population of our game reserves," he added.

The lions are destined for a "mini" game reserve about 10 miles north of Johannesburg. Eventually the 900-acre reserve will sport 100 lions, giraffe, zebra, many species of wild buck, rhino, hippo and monkeys.

The spokesman said the 100 lions would be the largest single pride in Arica. They each cost 600 Rand ($840).

Falconry is considered the oldest of all "field sports."
